Could 3 Children Have Escaped Killer Home Fire?

A BURNT-OUT SHELL is all that remains of this death house at 129 Des Plaines Ln., in Hoffman Estates. Three youngsters, all the children of Mr. and Mrs. William Gahan, perished as flames engulfed thehome early Fridaymorning. A fourth Gahan youngster managed to escape the blaze.

State and local fire investigators continued yesterday to probe for information about a house fire that took the lives of three young children early Friday in one of Hoffman Estate's worst tragedies.

No cause has been determined for the fire that killed Stephanie, Robert and Todd Gahan of 129 Des Plaines Ln.

The children were ages 7, 6, and 5, respectively.

One lead being investigated concerns two tanks, one containing acetylene, the other, oxygen, which had been stored in the house's attic. A report on the tanks, now at the Joliet Crime Lab, is expected today.

A fourth child, Laurie, 16, managed to survive the blaze. She reportedly escaped through a window in a bedroom where she was sleeping while babysitting for her younger brothers and sister. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Gahan, were not at home at the time. Gahan is employed as a salesman at Woodfield Ford in Schaumburg.

Four Hoffman Estates firefighters were injured while attempting to rescue the children, who were trapped by the blaze.

LT. JEROME Danowski, one of the first men to reach the scene, said the heat from the fire knocked him down several times while he tried to reach the rooms where the children were located.

Sheets of flames and dense smoke prevented him from reaching the room. He received second degree burns on his face, neck and one hand.

Deputy Fire Chief Edward Kalasa and firefighter Dave Farr were injured when a second explosion ripped out a portion of the front wall. Firefighter John Criel was injured. All were treated and released from Alexian Brothers Medical Center in Elk Grove Village.

Most of the neighbors questioned about the tragedy said they did not know the family, who had been renting the house since last August.

"There was an explosion, but it sounded like breaking glass and trash cans being knocked over," said Mrs. Ray Featheringham, 134 Illinois Blvd., who lives directly behind the Gahan home. She said after hearing the noise she went to a back window and saw dense, black smoke. Seconds later the entire house was engulfed in flames.

Mrs. Featheringham said her husband and several other men rushed into the night to get the children from the house, but they were driven back by the heat.

Kalasa said the heat from the fire could have been as high as 1,500 degrees.

THE BEDROOM where the two boys, Robert, 6, and Todd, 5, were found had only a small sliding window about five

'Worst Night Of My Life' Says Fire Chief

by STEVE BROWN

"It was the worst night of my life," said Hoffman Estates Fire Chief Carl Selke, as he tried to recount the details of a fire that in the first few moments of Friday morning took the lives of three young children.

Without much sleep, Selke and the other firefighters gathered at the two firehouses in the district for another day of work.

All were saddened by the fire which killed Stephany, Robert and Todd Gahan, who had all lived less than a decade. Few were able to sleep at all with the tragedy fresh in their minds.

"We were there in less than a minute," said Lt. Jerome Danowski, who was at fire station Number One when the alarm was sounded.

With his head and one hand covered in bandages from severe burns, he said he was not able to remember how he got out of the house, after being burned in an attempt to find the children.

"I GOT KNOCKED down by the heat, lost a flashlight, and got disoriented in the house," he explained.

"I thought we were gone, when the roof caved in," said Firefighter John Criel, adding he and other firemen worked frantically over the three children while they were rushed to the hospital and once there, but to no avail.

"They were just burned too badly," he said.

At the other fire station, firemen sat around a kitchen table in silence. Their regret over not being able to reach the children was evident. Few words were exchanged.

They could not accept the fact that the fire was a raging inferno seconds after it started. Frustrated, one tried to sleep, another hoped that cutting the grass would help enough to sleep.

"THEY ARE ALL my heroes," Chief Selke said. "We failed to save the lives, but I do not think it was humanly possible.

"I yelled at them to get into the house and they tried every way to reach the rooms where the children were later found.

"You always think that you could have done more, but I don't know what it is," Selke said before he left to help the state fire marshal sift through the remains of the gutted house for some clue to the blaze's origin.

"It was the worst night of my life," he repeated.

100 Participate In 'Project Help'

Despite rainy and wet conditions Saturday, a little over 100 persons worked planting in Hoffman Estates and Schaumburg in the second phase of Project Help.

A major effort took place at Schaumburg's Terada Park, Schaumburg Road and Salem Drive, where hundreds of small trees and grass clumps were planted.

In Hoffman Estates, major plantings were called off because of the weather, but Hoffman Estates Woman's Club volunteers worked pruning and planting around village hall, 161 Illinois Blvd.

A recycling drive manned by the Youth for Environmental Salvation, a James B. Conant High School group, was held Saturday also.

Project Help will continue this coming Saturday when creek beds throughout the two villages will be cleaned and the planting to be done near the Winston Knolls subdivision will be rescheduled.

Volunteers are still being accepted by calling The Herald at 394-2300, Ext. 256.

Collection To Aid Fire Victims Set

The Hoffman Estates Boys Club board of directors decided in an emergency meeting Friday to hold a collection on behalf of the Gahan family, victims of Friday's tragic fire in which three children were killed.

Clothing, furniture, small appliances and anything that will help them reestablish their household will be appreciated, said Tony Stompanato, spokesman.

The goods can be deposited at the Boys Club between 7 and 9 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, Stompanato said.

The Boys Club is located behind Hoffman Estates village hall, 161 Illinois Blvd., Hoffman Estates.

Banker Ward Weaver Free On $1,000 Bail Bond

by NANCY COWGER

Ward Weaver, 36, president of Schaumburg State Bank, surrendered himself Friday morning to federal marshals and posted $1,000 bond on charges he made false entries in the bank's books, according to Frank Murtha, U.S. attorney prosecuting a six-count indictment against Weaver delivered Thursday.

Arraignment and entering of pleas in the indictments against Weaver and Erwin D. Oosting of Western Springs will be the week of May 22 before Federal Judge Thomas McMillen, Murtha said.

Weaver and Oostling were indicted by a federal grand jury Thursday, each on five charges of making false entries and one charge on conspiracy to make false entries. The charges deal with alleged transactions in the Schaumburg bank and in Evanston Trust and Savings Bank, where Weaver also was president, and Bank of Clarendon Hills. Oostling is former president of the Clarendon Hills bank.

Ward Weaver

The indictment alleges the Clarendon Hills bank made loans totalling more than $630,160.66 to Mar-K-Z Motors and Leasing Co., Inc., Freeport, and its principals and then recorded them as sold and transferred to the two other banks. The loans remained in the Clarendon Hills bank and were not transferred, according to the indictment. Mar-K-Z no longer is in business Murtha said.

Murtha said yesterday the Schaumburg bank was involved in only $60,000 of the loan transfers. Weaver is named in all counts of the indictment, including those dealing with transfers to the Evanston bank. He was president there during the period of the transfers, allegedly made between March 1, 1967, and June 1, 1968.

THE TRANSFERS were recorded to deceive state examiners looking into affairs of the banks, Murtha said Friday, adding the examiners specifically were investigating the loans. The indictment charges the two men "made false and misleading statements to the examiners concerning the status of the Mar-K-Z loans," Murtha said.

The second count of the indictment, the one showing the Schaumburg bank transfers, as well as some at the Evanston bank, deals with a total of $233,186.14 in loans, Murtha said. The sixth count, listing only Evanston bank records, alleges false entries totalling $396,974.52.

While Weaver is named in all counts, Murtha said, in some he is named as a principal, and in other as an aider or a better.

Neither Weaver or Oostling are charged with embezzlement, as was reported Friday in some other papers, Murtha said.

WEAVER, A RESIDENT of 112 Highland Ave., Inverness, has been president of the Schaumburg bank since it's inception, in 1965. He participated in the recent establishment of a Babe Ruth baseball league in Schaumburg, and serves on a committee to develop a hospital on a 10-acre land donation along the north side of Schaumburg Road between Roselle Road and Illinois Boulevard.

Oosting, 43, lives at 5607 Grand Ave., Western Springs.

Harper Teachers Get 5.3% Hike

A 1972-73 salary package granting a total average increase of 5.3 per cent to Harper College faculty members has been termed "low in some areas" by the faculty salary committee.

The first to settle in the Northwest suburban area, respresentatives of the Harper teachers say they are satisfied with the agreement "considering the economic conditions of the times."

The salary package was approved by the Harper Board of Trustees after about three months of negotiations. The teachers approved the package earlier this month with a 62 to 48 vote.

The package calls for:

—An increase of 2.6 per cent of each teacher's contracted salary;

—A $300 increase for teachers rated good or outstanding;

—An overall average increase in fringe benefits of .47 per cent.

The teachers are paid within four different salary ranges: between $8,800 and $15,000 for instructors; $9,700 and $17,000 for assistant professors; $11,000 and $20,000 for associate professors; and $12,800 and $23,000 for full professors.

THE INCREASE in the teachers' base contract is .8 per cent higher than last year's. However last year's agreement also included provision for a five per cent merit payment to top teachers. Salary ranges and the 10 per cent promotion increase used this year will be retained next year.

Elements such as salary ranges, faculty evaluation, educational grants, promotions in rank and merit compensation will be studied next year by teachers, administrators and board members. Members of the negotiating teams agreed that these elements are "matters of board policy."

Regarding the issues slated for study, Ray DePalma, chairman of the faculty salary committee, said "they need considerable work to update them to current local norms."

According to the faculty salary committee a comparison of base salaries at 15 local community colleges ranks Harper 14th. Using a national study, college officials say the average teachers' salary at Harper ranks in the 90 percentile.

Negotiations this year were shadowed by six economic factors, according to Harper administrators. They include state recommendations for maximum salary increases of 4.5 or 4 per cent. Other considerations were the national wage price controls and the depression in higher education.

Binder Walks 'Second Mile'

by BOB ANDERSEN

Conceding an obligation to all residents, Hoffman Estates Park District director Al Binder is willing to take that extra step.

"Now we're going a step further," the newly-hired director declared last week.

Binder explained that because of apathy on the part of apartment complex managers, he is having all park district informational brochures and literature "hand-delivered" to local apartment dwellers.

Binder is undertaking the measure because of an admitted weakness in the park district's method of disbursing information to its constituents.

The district uses the water company's mailing list. Since most apartment dwellers don't pay water bills, they don't receive the literature.

THE BROCHURES were mailed to single-family homeowners the first part of last week. The brochures were to have been hand-delivered to the apartment complexes Friday, well in advance of any registration deadlines for the summer park district activities listed.

When first made aware of the oversight, Binder responded that he would immediately contact all local apartment managers and inform them they can pick up the brochures at the district office and distribute them to the tenants.

He did this about 13 days ago. In the interim, only a few of the managers bothered to appear. "It appears they could care less," Binder said.

So, if the apartment managers won't pick up the brochures, Binder is willing to use park district personnel to "hand-deliver" the literature.

Binder wants to make the procedure a regular part of park district routine. Obviously, he explained, if it is to be effective, the district will need the "cooperation" of the apartment managers.

BINDER'S THEORY is that once the literature is put on an apartment manager's doorstep, the manager should be willing to see that it is made available — perhaps hand-delivered a second time — to all tenants.

Binder has faith in the method. The only alternative, he contended, would be to pay an outside firm to compile and assemble an apartment mailing list. Such a project would cost at least $150, he adds. "It would be a waste of the taxpayer's money," the youthful director said.

Nonetheless Binder is forthright. He does not consider apartment dwellers to be second-class citizens. "I am obligated to give every resident of Hoffman Estates Park District an equal opportunity to participate," he said.

His responsibility now will be to impress upon the apartment managers that their tenants are entitled to that "equal opportunity to participate."

IN SHORT, Al Binder believes the apartment managers should be willing to take an "extra step" also.

Binder does admit the hand-delivery measure is experimental. The burden of making sure the procedure is effective does, however, fall on the park district's shoulders especially in view of his statement about all Hoffman Estates residents have an "equal opportunity to participate" in park district activities.

If it is determined to be ineffectual, Binder may discover, to his chagrin, that the only solution will be spending the money to compile an apartment mailing list to go along with the water company list.

But, that will be too late for the summer brochures.

Seeks To Halt School Bus Traffic

Armed with a home movie of school buses driving by her house, a Hoffman Estates woman asked the High School Dist. 211 board of education Thursday to prevent Conant High School buses from taking a short cut through her subdivision.

Kathleen Schafer, 100 Aberdeen Court, told the board that at 3:40 each afternoon at least nine buses drive by her house "at an excessive rate of speed and at close intervals." She said the buses create a hazard for children going home from nearby Dist. 54 Fairview School.

After viewing Mrs. Schafer's film and hearing her plea, board members explained the district has many problems with busing students long distances to its four high schools. Board Pres. Robert Creek said, "I am delighted to see you here explaining a public problem. We will do our absolute best to improve the situation, but the improvement, I'm sure, will not mean that no buses will go by your house."

Mrs. Schafer, who also presented a petition signed by 18 families on her block, said the buses leave Conant in the afternoon and go down Aberdeen to Audubon Steet, then turn west onto Arizona Road.

At the same time, she said, at least nine other buses leave Conant and go down East Thacker Street to Ashland Street, tuen turn west onto Arizona Boulevard and onto Roselle Road.

SHE SAID the buses started taking the route through her area last year when Plum Grove Road was under construction. At that time, she said, she complained to Claude Bailey, the district's Director of Transportation, and was told the buses were using alternate routes to Higgins Road because of the construction.

"The Plum Grove Road construction has been completed for several months," she said. "All of the buses using the residential streets can now use Plum Grove Road as an access to Higgins Road."

Creek said the board did not have enough information about alternate routes to make a decision that night, but added Supt. Richard Kolze and Bailey would work on a solution. He agreed with Mrs. Schafer's suggestion that a village policeman might be stationed at Plum Grove and Higgins roads to help buses make left turns, adding, "A petition like yours is worth more in working with the villages than any letter from the board."

HIGH AND SMALL is the bedroom window at the ranch style house in which three children perished early Friday in Hoffman Estates. Deputy Fire Chief Ed Kalasa said the window is too high for a small child to boost through and too small, with its sliding panes, for an adult to fit through. The house, like many in the older section of town, was built prior to Hoffman Estate's incorporation as a village. This type window was allowable under old county building regulations.

Bill To Allow Traffic Enforcement On Private Lots Wins House OK

A bill allowing municipal police departments to enforce motor vehicle laws on private property unanimously passed the Illinois House of Representatives Friday. The bill originated in Hoffman Estates.

Approved by a 118-0 vote, the bill now moves to the Senate. Though introduced by State Rep. David Regner, R-Mount Prospect, a prime architect of the legislation was Richard Regan, chairman of the Hoffman Estates Plan Commission.

In effect the bill would authorize municipal boards, on request from owners, to direct police to enforce traffic laws on private roads and parking lots in multiple-family developments.

A House vote on a partner bill that would require sellers of condominiums to furnish buyers with specific and complete information on the units itself, and obligations and restrictions connected with ownership prior to closing a sale also is imminent, Regner said.

THE IMPETUS for both bills came from Regan, who feels such legislation is necessary especially in view of the explosion of condominium and multi-family development in the Northwest suburbs.

The bills would serve to protect people who may not be sufficiently sophisticated concerning the many-faceted responsibilities and potential problems connected with condominium ownership.

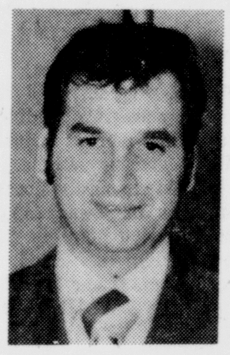

Regner said that State Sen. John Graham, R-Barrington, will shepherd the traffic bill in the senate.

Regner explained an amendment has been added to the traffic bill that, in effect, will stipulate that municipalities must establish speed limits and other regulations on the private property that are in accordance with the state motor vehicle codes.

Charles Loveisky To Head Jaycees

Charles E. Loveisky was elected president of the Hoffman Estates Jaycees for the coming year.

Loveisky, who has been a member of the Jaycees for four years and a Hoffman Estates resident for five, said he plans to "develop more meaningful projects for the community." He also plans a membership campaign to attract more young men to the group.

Other new officers in the group are: George Heim, internal vice president; Richard W. McMahon, external vice president; Robert McCullough, treasurer; and Richard Maring, secretary.

The community service group recently completed its "Operation Redball" project. The program, which is designed to encourage fire safety, involved the distribution of decals for placement in the bedroom windows of children.

Could Three Kids Have Escaped?

feet from the floor. Kalasa said escape from there would have been very difficult for a small child because the window was hard to open and high off the ground.

The third child, Stephanie, was found in a bathroom only a few feet from the rear door of the house.

Firemen theorize that she lost her way in the smoke and flames and was trapped in the bathroom.

The intensity of the heat was so great that metal kitchen appliances, window frames and other usually noncombustibles were covered with flames, firemen said.

The firemen and police reached the scene in less than two minutes, but the house was totally engulfed. They were repeatedly beaten back by flames, heat and smoke and were not able to reach the children for almost 20 minutes. They fought the fire for more than 90 minutes before bringing it under control.

Students To Elect Village 'Leaders'

Speeches and "planned spontaneous demonstration" and a new mayor in Schaumburg will cap off campaigns this morning, and voting during the day will determine the village's next leader.

The mayor, who could be a woman, will step into office Friday, and leave it the same day.

The mayor, village clerk and six trustees are to come from the current senior class of Schaumburg High School, and will be the choice of their fellow students for Youth in Government Day.

Candidates for the village presidency are Barb Lee, United Party, and William Eggbeer, Peoples Coalition.

Running for village clerk are Mary Jansen, PC, and Karen Osterman, UP.

Seeking trusteeships on the PC slate are Bill Hommowun, Terri Hill, Dan Thompson, Jeff Larson, Mickey Governale and Richard Staback. Running on the UP slate are Joe Marigliano, Mary Ryan, Kathy Metzke, John Blasco, Shirley Havell and Marty Hjertstedt.

THE CANDIDATES were chosen by caucus and the formation of political parties. Each candidate had to present a petition with signatures from 100 students to obtain a ballot position. Their names were drawn from a hat to determine ballot order. Only the 339 seniors will vote.

This is the first youth in government day for the high school, because it is the first year it has had a class of seniors. The village has participated in the program before, hosting Schaumburg students from Conant High School.

George Stewart, faculty sponsor of the program, predicted the activity can be a learning experience for students and village official hosts both. "We hope it's a two-way street," he said.

The students have studied village government in survey courses, and have their own ideas on how to deal with current village problems, said Stewart. They likely will be expressing these ideas to the real village officials.

Campaign issues generally have been youth-oriented, said Stewart. They have dealt with areas as expanding youth programs offered outside of schools, appointing a young person to the real police and fire commission, supporting the planned sports stadium at Woodfield, promoting recycling, reopening Jennings House for teenagers, and instead of just younger children, supporting the village civic and cultural center and installation of more sidewalks.

Shortly after the election, the winning mayoral candidate will announce appointments to 37 other village offices. These will include village employe roles and chairmanships and memberships on committees, commissions and boards.

Friday, Youth in Government Day, the students will meet at Great Hall, hear brief talks by Mayor Robert O. Atcher and other officials, spend a few hours with their legal counterparts and hold a village board meeting.

Only 16 Attend Meeting On $1.1 Million Issue

Only 16 persons, including speakers, attended a public meeting Thursday night to discuss the June 10 Hoffman Estates Park District referendum to approve a $1.1 million bond issue.

David H. Robertson, New Trier High School swimming director, endorsed the proposal to construct an indoor swimming pool in cooperation with High School Dist. 211. He emphasized the value of a pool, which he said is the only recreational facility "that can be used as much and in so many ways by so many people." Potential uses include lifesaving classes, water ballet groups, competitive swimming, recreation swims, training for athletes, scuba diving, water safety and swimming instruction for all age and physical ability groups, he said.

Among questions from the audience was one dealing with the potential affects of a proposal by County Assessor P. J. Cullerton to change taxing procedures to base rates on market value of property rather than assessed value.

Tax consultants stated such a change would not influence the cost per homeowner from a bond issue, since it is a contract to pay a specific amount of money at a specific time. The dollar amount would not change no matter which taxing procedure was used, they said.

Fred Weaver, park board president, compared tax rates in Hoffman Estates with those in other communities, saying even if both questions on the two-part referendum are passed, Hoffman Estates will have a rate below the average for six surrounding park districts. The pool is one part, and general park improvements are in the other. The bond issue would add $9.19 to the yearly park district tax bill for the average home, valued at $11,500, he said.

Office Occupations Class Wins Prize

A second place award of $75 has been presented to students from Conant High School's office occupations class for talent displayed at the National Office Education Convention.

Seven members of the class performed a comedy skit in the talent contest at the national meeting held recently in Columbus, Ohio. Those in the act were Lynn Hagan, Janet Caprile, Cheryl Smith, Mary Hasenberg, Pam Ellman and Laura Wittlinger of Hoffman Estates and Dawn Biarnesen of Schaumburg.

The winners plan to use a portion of their prize money to purchase some permanent equipment for the class.

Armstrong Spring Festival Tuesday

A spring choral festival is part of Tuesday's Neil Armstrong PTA program to be presented in the school's all-purpose room, 155 N. Kingsdale Rd., Hoffman Estates.

Following the 7:30 p.m. business meeting the festival will be presented by the primary grades under the direction of Nicole Cummings, music teacher.

New PTA officers will be installed by Shirley Rodie, Schaumburg Council of PTA's past president. They are, Mrs. William Reilly, president; Mrs. Donald Graff, first vice president; Mrs. Harry B. Thompson, second vice president; Mrs. Bruce Armour, recording secretary; Mrs. James Botts, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. John Wahle, treasurer.

Mikottis In Sorority

Terese Mikottis, a Schaumburg resident, has pledged Sigma Kappa sorority at Eastern Illinois University, Charelston. It is one of six women's social organizations chartered at the college.

Correction

Diane Jensen, Hoffman Estates village trustee, last week voted against permitting Kaufman and Broad to erect four signs advertising its industrial park. It was incorrectly reported in Thursday's edition she had voted for the signs. The Herald regrets the error.

Cub Scout Dens Serve In SOAR

Two dens of Schaumburg's Cub Scout Pack 195 recently served their local community as part of Phase I of Project SOAR (Save Our American Resources), a program being nationally undertaken by the Boy Scouts of America.

Celebrating Keep America Beautiful Day, April 29, six members of Den 4 planted lilac bushes at the southeast corner of Campanelli School on Springinsguth Road.

The boys were David Davis, Joe Epps, Larry Hawley, Joe Jarosinski, Rusty Juris and Steve Tsouloufis.

Planting operations were supervised by Gus Tsouloufis, ecology chairman for the pack committee.

Members of Den 7 also spruced up Webster-Warwick Park under the leadership of their den mother, Mrs. Pat Enger, and Mrs. Allison Clancy.

Scouts working on this project included Jeff Berg, Pat Clancy, Dave Murphy, Mike Ruhl, Bob Sigler and Rick Wagner.

Members of Pack 195 look forward to participating in Project Help on Saturday when they will assist in a mass planting at Schaumburg Road and Salem Drive.

Project Help, in which the boys plan to take an active role, is a joint-community venture being sponsored by environmental committees in Schaumburg and Hoffman Estates.

No Danger Of Fund Loss For Two Bank Depositors

While both the Village of Schaumburg and Schaumburg Township School Dist. 54 have deposits in Schaumburg State Bank that may total more than the $20,000 Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. insurance limit, there is no danger of a loss of funds for either governmental unit, local officials said Friday.

The village has upwards of $1 million in the bank, said Mayor Robert O. Atcher. The school district has a payroll checking account in the bank, which at times has deposits totaling up to $400,000, said Mrs. Jeanne Goff, school district accountant.

The school district account usually is depleted within a week or two, as teachers cash their pay checks and the checks clear the bank, Mrs. Goff said.

However, Mrs. Goff said "there is no problem whatsoever" which could entail a loss of school district monies.

Some district teachers have expressed concern their pay checks might not be honored, said Mrs. Goff. At one school in particular, the teachers met and delegated one of their members to inquire if the checks would be cashed. At that school "all the teachers were quite concerned," said Mrs. Goff.

"I HAVE TOLD them there is no problem whatsoever," she said.

In the Schaumburg Village offices, Mayor Robert O. Atcher was equally reassuring Friday. He called the Chicago office of State Auditor Michael Howlett immediately on his arrival at work Friday, he said, and was told "there is no problem with regards to village funds in the Schaumburg bank, or anyone else's funds in that bank."

The official Atcher spoke with also said he was to meet with the bank's directors and officers Friday afternoon, and expected to be able to "straighten the matter out," said Atcher.

"Since this thing has become an indictment, people having money in an institution like this worry without having answers. There shouldn't be any anxiety, because their money is safe," said Atcher. He was referring to the indictment Thursday of Ward Weaver, the bank's president.

While Atcher was unsure exactly how much of the village's money is on deposit at Schaumburg State Bank, all savings account funds are in certificates of deposit of $20,000 increments, said Atcher.

THIS MEANS EACH certificate is considered a separate account, and is on deposit for a specified period of time at a specified rate of interest that cannot change, no matter how other interest rates fluctuate, he said.

The village also has checking accounts at the bank, some of which may contain more than $20,000, said Atcher. The FDIC guarantees deposits up to the $20,000 mark for all member banks.

Atcher said he was not certain whether FDIC covers checking accounts, as well as savings accounts, and if it does, whether it would cover municipal checking accounts over the $20,000 point. "I don't know the fine points" of FDIC law, said Atcher.

However, the mayor said state officials had given him absolute assurance "there is no problem with regards to the people's money."

The village also has accounts at LaSalle National Bank in Chicago, and Woodfield Bank, Schaumburg.

Bank Officials Express Confidence In Innocence

Officials of Schaumburg State Bank Friday expressed confidence Ward Weaver, president of the bank, would be exonerated of charges he conspired with a Clarendon Hills bank president in making false entries in bank records.

"I have no question but that I'm 100 per cent behind Ward Weaver, and that the accusations against him are entirely false," said Paul Brandel, chairman of the bank's board.

Weaver's attorney, Joseph Lamendella, made similar comments Friday afternoon.

"All this is, is an accusation. He is presumed innocent by law. I am sure his innocence will shine through in the trial," said Lamendella.

Lamendella has advised Weaver to make no further comment on the case until after his attorneys had studied the indictment thoroughly.

LAMENDELLA SAID he had received a copy of the indictment Friday morning, and would study it before commenting on the case.

However, Weaver will plead not guilty when he is arraigned next week, said Lamendella. The charges will go to trial, he predicted.

"It is true he (Weaver) was never informed that charges would be brought. The first opportunity Weaver will have to present his side of the story will be the trial. He was never called before the grand jury" to testify, Lamendella said.

Brandel also said Friday the Schaumburg bank "is not involved in the slightest" in the charges against Weaver, "from the standpoint of depositor relationships and stockholders."

"There has been and will be no loss. It (the indictment) did not involve any of the Schaumburg State Bank's transactions. The Schaumburg bank has no tie in this at all. The fact Ward Weaver is president has no bearing," said Brandel.

"AS FAR AS I can determine, the incident is strictly between the two other banks," Evanston Trust and Savings Bank and the Bank of Clarendon Hills, said Brandel.

Weaver has taken a leave of absence from his bank position until after the charges are cleared.

Hockey School Signup Under Way

Enrollment is under way for the Gene Ubriaco Hockey School offered by the Rolling Meadows Park District from June 19 to Aug. 12. Classes will be given at the Rolling Meadows Sports Complex.

Ubriaco, a former Chicago Black Hawk and coach of the Chicago Warriors, said the hockey school will be basically the same as it was last year.

The hockey school will be a week long and will be broken down into five three-hour instructional periods from Monday through Friday and a game on Saturday.

Each day the boys will learn a different fundamental of hockey. The first hour of each session will be devoted to hearing a lecture and/or seeing a film on some fundamental of hockey and the next two hours will be spent practicing the fundamental on the ice, said Ubriaco.

By Thursday the boys will be broken down into teams and the teams will play an actual game on Saturday.

EVERY WEEK there will be sessions conducted for three different age groups. Eight to 10-year-olds will meet at 12:30 p.m., 11 to 13-year-olds at 2:30 p.m. and 14 to 17-year-olds at 5 p.m.

In grouping the boys, "first consideration is given to age and weight," said Ubriaco. Ability then comes into play. It is possible a 12-year-old could be placed in the 14 to 17-year-old group if he is good enough just to give him better competiton, he explained.

Class size for each age group will be held between 30 and 35. Three to four instructors will work with each group on the ice.

Each position also will have its own instructor so each boy can be evaluated on his ability and given advice as to what he must do to improve.

WHILE ALL the fundamentals are covered in one week, Ubriaco said many boys choose to go through the school twice during the summer so they can go over everything.

For boys who were enrolled in the program last summer, this summer will serve as a refresher. The boys probably will be moved into a different age group. also giving them more competition.

The staff also will be the same as last year. In addition to Ubriaco, the staff will consist of Ron Mason, assistant director of athletics and hockey coach at Lake Superior State College; Matt Pavelich, senior National Hockey League official; Howie Young, former NHL defenseman; Gary Bryon, coach of the Chicago Minor Hawks; Mike Nardella, a member of the University of St. Louis hockey team, and Don Muio, member of the Lake Superior hockey team.

The major change this year will be in cost. "We have tried to make the program financially within the reach of every boy," said Ubriaco. Costs for residents was reduced to $30 and the cost for non-residents was set at $45.

FOR RESIDENTS who still find the cost prohibitive a new program has been started where a limited amount of housing will be available for non-residents.

Ubriaco said boys attending the hockey school come from as far away as Toronto. These boys need a place to stay while they are attending the school, so they are boarded in local homes for $35 a week, which covers the cost of the school for a local boy.

Ubriaco, who has been operating a hockey school for seven years, says many NHL guest instructors will be appearing during the school. He said he didn't like to sell the school on this idea, however, because there are sometimes last-minute changes that prevent appearances by some instructors and he doesn't want anyone to be disappointed.

Jerry Korab, a Chicago Black Hawk, will be a guest instructor at the school during July.

School Board Looks At Ethics Law

Members of the High School Dist. 211 Board of Education got a look at the forms required by the new Illinois ethics law last week and decided the law would not cause them any problems.

Board members were advised by attorney Allyn Franke to file the required forms with the Cook County Clerk's office, even though a Circuit Court judge recently ruled the new law requiring financial disclosures unconstitutional.

"That was only a lower court ruling," Franke said, "and I think you should proceed to file as the law requires until the high court makes a ruling."

The forms require the school board members to list firms in which they have a financial interest of more than $5,000, or which give them an income of more than $1,200 if the firm does business with the school district.

ALSO, THE board members must list capital gains of more than $5,000; firms which have requested zoning or annexation in which they have an interest; and any gifts received worth more than $500.

Illinois Supreme Court, Franke said the

ASSUMING THE law is upheld by the school board members will in the future be required to file the statement each year by April 30. Also, he said, any person filing for a school board election will have to show he has filed the form with the county.

Board members asked questions about the form and expressed relief that it does not require them to reveal their total salaries. Board Pres. Robert Creek said, "Since we're all salaried, the only thing that will matter on this form is if we have more than $5,000 in stock in a company that does business with this district or if we work for companies that do business with the district."

IN OTHER action, Creek asked board member Anna Countryman to study a proposal from the administration to expand girl's interscholastic athletic programs at the schools. The proposal would allow girls to participate in tennis, archery, track and field, badminton and bowling, girls may also compete with students at Palatine High School taking part in gymnastics if a coach can be hired.

Creek asked Mrs. Countryman to become familiar with the details of the proposal and to report to the board at a later meeting.

Also, the board agreed to allow the village of Schaumburg to build a sidewalk in front of Schaumburg High School along Schaumburg Road at a cost of not more than $4,200. The Schaumburg village board had offered to build the sidewalk at the same time it is building other walks along the road.

In addition, the board awarded a bid of $3,730.30 to Monarch Paving Co. for rebuilding and resurfacing the Fremd High School track, Supt. Richard Kolze said the 10 year old track had deteriorated and is no longer a standard-size track as reauired by the Illinois High School Association. The board also awarded a bid to All-State Fencing Co. for fencing around the track for $4,846.

Girl Scout Troop 272 Holds Ceremony

Around the theme of the environment, the members of Girl Scout troop 272 at Nathan Hale School in Schaumburg recently held a "Scouts Own" ceremony. The program was held to allow the girls to express their spirit of scouting as it pertained to the environment, said leaders of the troop.

The ceremony which was planned for the Bloomingdale woods was forced indoors by rain.

During the ceremony each of the scouts presented a pledge, poem, song or summary dealing with their feelings about the environment.

A Carpet Businessman With A True Baroque

by BOB ANDERSEN

When Hoffman Estates businessman Matt O'Dowd tells you he grew up on an 80-acre farm near Dublin, Ireland, you have to believe him.

The fact shoots out at you, the minute O'Dowd opens his mouth.

Though 23 years removed from his birthplace, Matt O'Dowd still has a quite recognizable Irish brogue.

The brogue, however, is just a charming vestige of another time and another place because O'Dowd is now thoroughly Americanized.

SINCE ARRIVING here in 1949 at age 20, O'Dowd has been a busy fellow. He has become a citizen, served with the military during the Korean conflict, married, had four children now aged between nine and 17 and has built a career for himself.

Now he is operating his own business. It is called O'Dowd Carpet at 213 S. Roselle Rd.

O'Dowd opened the store in March. Assisted by his wife, Sally, he sells, installs and services carpets. He also goes into homes to estimate the cost and best method of handling carpet-laying projects.

O'Dowd has been in the carpet business since he came to America. He was sponsored for entrance to this country by an uncle named Plunkett who operated a carpet and furniture store in Galesburg. He has been selling and installing carpets locally for 16 years and also operates a Chicago store.

UNDERSTANDABLY Matt O'Dowd retains a good deal of fondness for Ireland. He, however, is reluctant to comment on the current turmoil in Northern Ireland.

"Nobody really has an answer to it," he did say.

"The average Irish person (in the republic of Ireland) thinks there should be a free and unified Ireland," he added.

Oldham Is President

Morris Oldham, a resident of Schaumburg, has been elected president of Northwind Lodge, one of the newest B'nai Brith lodges in the Chicago area.

The lodge meets the third Tuesday of each month at the All Star Bowl, Dempster Street and Gross Point Road, Skokie.

Members of the lodge, many from the Northwest suburbs, are mainly in their twenties or early thirties. Most of the lodge's activities are geared to the needs of young Jewish men and young families.

Key Republicans Defend Governor

by BOB LAHEY

Two key Republicans have come to the defense of the beleagured leader of their party, Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie, in the continuing offensive by Ogilvie's Democratic challenger, Dan Walker.

State Rep. David J. Regner, R-Mount Prospect, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, and Rep. W. Robert Blair, R-Park Forest, speaker of the House, last week challenged Walker to spell out his charges of overspending by the Ogilvie administration.

Blair and Regner issued an invitation to Walker to testify during a two-day hearing beginning tomorrow in Springfield on financing of higher education.

"If Mr. Walker's charges are not merely campaign rhetoric," Regner said, "and he really knows of specific cases of overspending, we want to know about it, too, so we can trim the fat now, not next year."

Walker has declined the invitation to testify, dismissing it as "just another poitical ploy" by the Republicans.

THE MOVE BY Regner and Blair may or may not be a direct response to campaign developments of the past 10 days; the first of what Walker insists will be a series of "debates," between Ogilvie and Walker; and publication of the first major poll between the two since the primary election.

Many Ogilvie supporters had misgivings when the governor agreed to debate Walker. Those misgivings have grown in the aftermath of their first meeting.

Walker is on the attack — the logical tactic for the challenger. It worked for him in the primary, when he succeeded in keeping Lt. Gov. Paul Simon almost constantly on the defensive. In his first debate with Ogilvie, he again achieved the offensive — unfairly, with half-truths and baseless allegations, charge Ogilvie backers.

Fair or unfair, the Chicago Sun-Times poll published last week indicated that Walker has grabbed an early, and commanding, lead over Ogilvie throughout the state.

In the face of this, it is not difficult to imagine that Ogilvie is turning to the foot soldiers for a flanking movement to try to turn the Walker assault and gain the offensive.

For this job, Regner and Blair are logical volunteers.

THEY OCCUPY two of the most powerful positions in the House of Representatives, and their challenge to Democrat Walker thus carries some weight.

Both are engaged in campaigns of their own, but neither is considered in any danger of losing; they can afford to lend support to Ogilvie.

Regner, with a powerful base of support in Carl Hansen's Elk Grove Township Republican organization, is considered the odds-on favorite to win election to the state Senate in the 3rd District, over William B. Rose of Elk Grove Village.

Blair is the only incumbent of four candidates running for three House seats in his safe Republican district.

Their opening shot in behalf of the governor produced the first move by Walker which could be considered defensive, since he began his campaign some 18 months ago.

Regner charged, "The truth of the matter is, of course, that the members of the (appropriations) committee have to deal with facts and figures and loose allegations won't do."

By ducking the challenge to prove his allegations, Walker may create some doubt among the voters about the validity of his charges.

However, he undoubtedly recognizes that if he accepted the invitation to testify he would be on the other fellow's battlefield, with the world watching. And the high ground would be very much in control of the Ogilvie infantry.

The Lighter Side

by Dick West

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Luigi V. Populi, the distinguished political scientist and humanitarian, stopped by my desk and handed me a philosophical bumper sticker. "Stop The Primaries! . . it said.

I said, "Is this some new cause you are promoting in your tireless crusade for a better world tomorrow?"

"This is the beginning of a nationwide protest against the barbaric extermination of American presidential candidates," he replied.

"Do you have any idea what the casualty rate from this year's primaries has been thus far?"

I admitted I had not seen the latest body count, but I agreed the toll was high.

"I AM ASKING you to sign this petition demanding an immediate halt to the primaries as a means of ending the senseless and tragic destruction of candidates," Populi said.

I said, "Every decent American has been appalled by the devastation wreaked upon Lindsay, Hartke, Muskie and Jackson. But in the long run the primaries may be the most humane way of thinning out the herd.

"Without some preliminary elimination process, the candidates would savagely destroy each other at the national convention this summer."

Populi shook his head. "If you had stood with me and watched the refugees streaming back from New Hampshire, Florida, Pennsylvania and Ohio, their campaigns in ruins, you wouldn't say that.

"Subjecting the candidates to such torment and anguish can only be viewed as another dark chapter in American history. Civilization itself is at stake." I said, "What is your counter-proposal?"

"UNCONDITIONAL cancellation of the remaining primaries and an internationally supervised withdrawal of the candidates from Michigan, Maryland, Oregon and California.

"These are terms which would not require surrender and humiliation on the part of anybody. They would permit the candidates to withdraw with honor and avoid further carnage and needless financial disaster."

I said, "I recognize that you are following the dictates of your conscience and I appreciate the high sense of morality behind the movement. But I'm afraid it comes too late.

"The 1972 campaign has already reached the point of contention where any pacification program is foredoomed. A victor must emerge from the crucible of the primaries. Those are the hard realities."

Populi, however, remains idealistically convinced that some sort of political settlement is possible.

Religion Today

by Rev. Lester Kinsolving

Within one week of its relase, Irving Wallace's fascinating new novel "The Word" — about a sensational forgery of an entire gospel (according to Jesus' brother James) — had begun climbing the best-seller lists.

The novel capitalizes upon a fascination which has been widespread ever since the momentous discovery of the Dead Sea Scrolls in 1947: the possibility of someday unearthing more information about Jesus Christ.

The book is not only as gripping as any detective story ever written, but shows the evidence of Wallace's ten years of research, during which he consulted scholars all over the world. And the general reading public — who can hardly be imagined reading most books on Biblical archeology — will benefit immensely from the scholarly material which Wallace has assembled. So will the clergy, in that they may be relieved from the tiresome ignorance of skeptics who mouth the familiar claim that "nothing was written about Jesus until hundreds of years after he died."

During a telephone interview, Wallace expressed amazement and amusement when informed that a forgery similar to that outlined in his book had actually taken place in the U.S.

AND WHILE not on anything quite like the thirty-year scale in his novel, this forgery was perhaps even more astounding, considering the perpetrators and their success.

One day in 1936, two freshmen at Cambridge, Massachusetts' intellectually prestigious Episcopal Theological School (ETS) were stung by the splendor of a sudden thought — while sitting in New Testament class.

"Wouldn't it be fascinating if a manuscript turned up someday which would settle the dispute about the ending of St. Paul's Epistle to The Romans!" said their professor — with such yearning that the two frosh decided to oblige him.

So they purchased a sheepskin from the Harvard Co-Op, buried it for a month — and when that didn't make it look sufficiently ancient, they boiled it in coffee.

THEN TO Harvard's immense library where they learned all that was necessary about the manner of Greek in New Testament manuscripts. The ink was an amalgamation of all the ink available — and mysteriously borrowed — from fellow students. Finally the finished manuscript was rubbed on a rug by the bare feet of one of the two conspirators.

Six months after this Manhattan Project of practical jokery had begun, Professor Norman Nash (afterwards Bishop of Mass.) received a letter signed by one "Horace Partridge" — a name selected at random for its piquancy. Partridge was writing Professor Nash to inform him that having recently traveled through Egypt, he had (1) Purchased an interesting-looking but mysterious scroll from a beggar in Cairo (2) Been strongly advised by an Episcopal missionary in the city to send the manuscript to his former seminary professor at ETS.

Excited (but veiled) references to a sensational archeological discovery soon began punctuating the lectures of the seminary faculty — especially those of widely beloved New Testament Professor William Henry Paine ("Daddy") Hatch, whose eyes glowed with anticipation.

When the "Partridge Manuscript" passed the scrutiny of the staff of Harvard's Fogg Museum, the Rev. Dr. Hatch took special leave to write a monograph on the exciting discovery. It was then that the two students panicked and confessed all to Professor Nash.

"HE WOULDN'T believe us because we were just freshmen!" recalls one of the hoaxers, the Rev. Reamer Kline — now President of New York's Bard College. "We had to show him the cut edges of the manuscript. And when he phoned Daddy Hatch' the only response was: 'Oh no! no! no! no! . . ."

For years afterwards, no one ever mentioned the magnificent hoax in Dr. Hatch's presence. But the beloved professor eventually forgave his students, especially when one of them, Chaplain Barrett Tyler, was killed in the Pacific during World War II.

In the ETS chapel is the Tyler Memorial Window. And in the lower right hand corner is a small but significant partridge — with a scroll around its neck.

It's a great time to buy the great car.

If you've ever considered owning a Cadillac, or even if you haven't, there are some especially good reasons for considering it right now.

For one, consider what Cadillac can mean to your vacation plans. It affords a degree of comfort, spaciousness and elegance that can help turn long, tedious trips into truly pleasurable ones.

Consider, too, the variety of Cadillac models currently offered. From the beautiful Coupe deVille shown above to the elegant Eldorado Coupe and Convertible, there are nine great cars. And right now, your authorized Cadillac dealer can probably supply just the model you want just the way you want it.

Perhaps the most decisive reason, though, for buying a Cadillac now is the most practical one—the move to Cadillac ownership is especially easy at this time. Teaching Certificate Is No Ticket To Security

by BETSY BROOKER
Third of Three Parts

Once a ticket to security, a teaching certificate has now become a jinx to some teachers.

Take Bob Rothwell for example. Mount Prospect School Dist. 57 notified Rothwell last month that his position will be eliminated next year. Come June, Rothwell will be out of a job.

Lee Ann Adam, never found a teaching job. She's been looking since she graduated last August.

Kay Keeley is another victim of budget cuts. Like Rothwell, she was notified last month that her job will be eliminated. Now she holds a counselor position in Maine Township High School Dist. 207.

These three teachers are typical examples of the new surplus that is flooding school districts with job applications. They entered their profession with confidence, little expecting they might one day have to join the ranks of unemployed.

Discouraged, but not defeated, they are mailing out resumes with stubborn persistence. They live in fear of fall, when they know they may have to turn to a substitute profession until the market opens again in the spring.

If Rothwell doesn't find a new job by September, he says he will probably "tune pianos and teach private music lessons." The Mount Prospect resident is now a music teacher at three public elementary schools.

Rothwell didn't find out he was a budget cut until the day after it was authorized by the school board. It came as "an absolute surprise attack," he says. "I would have gotten tenure next year."

Totaling five years in education college and five years in teaching experience, Rothwell says he has "too much of a commitment in teaching to give it up." And he says he enjoys it very much.

Rothwell's first reaction to the news was to fly immediately to Springfield to get a provisional teaching certificate. With this added to his music certificate he is qualified to teach an elementary school class. He hopes Dist. 57 will rehire him for a different position. But just in case they don't he has applied in neighboring districts and is already scheduled for two interviews.

Miss Adam of Arlington Heights, has had four interviews but as yet no contract. Her job search began a year ago when she was still a senior at Drake University. She was warned by the university counseling department that she might have difficulty as early as her sophomore year.

"I didn't feel discouraged," said Miss Adam, "because I didn't think it would happen to me."

Truth hit home about June, when she had to face an empty mail box. She didn't escalate her search during the summer months because she was still in class picking up a few remaining credits for graduation. By the time September arrived, it was too late.

Looking back at her first attempts, Miss Adam blames herself for naivete. "I didn't push enough. You have to keep calling so they'll remember your name and won't lose your file in the shuffle."

Facing defeat last fall, she accepted a part-time job as a library clerk and put herself on a substitute teachers list. She says her substitute teaching experience is an ace in the hole now. She has kept herself close to the profession and she has become known in some local districts.

Miss Adam renewed her job search in late January. She wrote back to school districts to let them know she was still available. But this time she didn't let it go at that. She called the districts to ask the statutes of her application. And in some cases she didn't wait for an interview invitation, but made the appointment herself.

She will continue this tactic until August. If she doesn't get a contract by then, she says she will start looking for a new profession. She doesn't regret majoring in education but she says she wishes she had taken additional courses that would qualify her for other jobs.

Mrs. Keeley, of Mount Prospect, is more fortunate. With five years experience as a high school counselor she says she should be able to find a job in industrial personnel. She doesn't regret majoring in education either, but she wishes she hadn't switched school districts two years ago.

Like Rothwell, Mrs. Keeley was a few months away from tenure when she learned her job would be eliminated. She was surprised when the shortage in teaching jobs began, but she never thought it would affect her job. Now Dist. 207 officials are helping her with letters of recommendation and job leads.

In reviewing the situation, Mrs. Keeley says that "rationally I understand the cuts had to be made and as a nontenure teacher I would be one of the first to go. But emotionally, I can't help but feel bitter."

Joins Appeal To Supreme Court

Church Hits FBI Publications Probe

The Countryside Unitarian Universalist Church of Palatine has gone on record as denouncing the FBI's probe of the Unitarian Universalist Association (UUA) and its affiliated publishing company.

The FBI launched its study of financial records of the church and the related Beacon Press last fall after the firm published a four-volume edition of the Pentagon Papers.

The edition was based on excerpts of the controversial study of U.S. involvement in the Vietnam War which earlier had been publicly disclosed by Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska.

The 135-member congregation of the Palatine church, in a resolution adopted at a special meeting last week, termed the FBI's investigation "unwarranted," and urged Robert Nelson West, president of the UUA, to continue to resist the probe.

The UUA has joined lawyers for Gravel in appealing to the U.S. Supreme Court lower court's decision that Gravel's senatorial immunity does not extend beyond his own action and that of his aides to include the Beacon Press.

The court is expected to rule on the matter during the spring session.

JEANNE PETERS OF Arlington Heights, social concerns chairman of the Palatine church, maintained that the UUA and the Beacon Press are being "harrassed" for being "singled out" of the various publishers of the Pentagon Papers.

The Rev. Ruppert L. Lovely, minister of the church, objected to the scope of the investigation's including all checks received and written by the UUA over a five-month period rather than being confined to those concerning the publishing of the Pentagon Papers.

He also contended that the investigation in general constitutes "a flagrant violation of religious freedom and the right to free association" insured by the U.S. Constitution.

Lovely said the UUA would not consider an adverse Supreme Court ruling on the senatorial immunity grounds altogether disappointing, because the case could then be appealed on constitutional grounds, which the church considers more important.

West indicated in a statement that two factors influenced the decision to print the Gravel edition of the Pentagon Papers:

—To help reduce the likelihood of the U.S. "becoming involved" in a situation similar to the Vietnam conflict.

—To uphold principles of the democratic process, particularly religious freedom, freedom of the press and the public's right to know.

"IT ALSO should be noted," West stated, "that it is the tradition of Beacon Press and our denomination to publish significant books which should be in the culture but which other publishers are reluctant to publish. Such publications bearing on the condition of human beings, basic freedoms, (and) religious ideals are a genuine expression and practice of our religion."

The FBI initiated its probe of Beacon Press because "public interest in investigation to identify and prosecute those responsible for criminal offenses overrides any protection afforded by the First Amendment," according to federal prosecutor Warren P. Reese.

The alleged offenses involve "illegal acquisition, dissemination and disposition of government documents."

Gravel has been spared prosecution for his role in releasing the contents of part of the secret papers because he did so in his capacity as a senator at a subcommittee meeting.

His reading of the documents was extensively covered by the media, and preceded Beacon Press' publication of the information by three weeks.

Bonding Agency 'Threat': Lahti

A proposal to create a new state bonding agency has been stamped a "threat to local control of junior college construction" by Harper College Pres. Robert Lahti.

The governor's office has submitted a proposal to the Illinois House of Representatives to create a capital development board with the power to sell general obligation bonds for state agencies. In the past the state sold bonds through the offices of the Illinois Building Authority, an independent state agency.

According to state officials, the new agency will be able to sell bonds at a lower interest rate and consequently save the state money.

For Harper officials, this would mean the 75 per cent state funding for construction projects would be channeled through the new board rather than the IBA.

IF THE BILL is passed, the college still will retain its obligation to provide 25 per cent of construction costs.

At a meeting Thursday, Lahti said he feared the new agency would supervise all construction from design to repair. In the long run, he said, increase in state supervision might lead to 100 per cent state funding and complete state control.

The key to the local officials' objection is in the role of the two agencies. The IBA is a state agency, yet it is independent. The new board, on the other hand, would be directly tied to the state.

The authority of the IBA over local construction has generally been restricted to guidelines. But as a creation of the governor, the new agency, says Lahti, may step beyond guidelines to supervision.

Jim Kolbe, an aide to the governor, denies the new agency will lead to more control. He said the college officials "misunderstand the intent of the bill." Lahti and other state college officials met with Kolbe Saturday at the Junior College Convention to discuss the capital development bond act.

The capital development proposal follows the governor's creation of a state task force to review and reduce college construction projects. Initially, Harper officials objected to the task force's intervention. However, after the force gave a go-ahead to construction of music and science facilities, with only minor revisions, the officials said they were satisfied with the state recommendations.

Win At Bridge

by Oswald and James Jacoby

Oswald: "When declarer can make his contract without giving up the lead he can relax completely. He can relax just as much if he can give up the lead with complete safety."

Jim: "Sometimes one opponent represents danger and he can afford to let the other one in. Under those circumstances it is up to him to keep away from the man with the gun."

Oswald: "West is the man with the gun today. He opens the king of diamonds and continues the suit. South wins the second diamond and sees that his future lies with the club suit. If East has the king of clubs he can finesse against it and will have 10 top tricks. What if West had the king of clubs? West will get a club and five diamonds."

Jim: "If South is a good player he decides not to bother with a club finesse. He doesn't care if East gets on lead with that card since he only needs four club tricks for his contract. Therefore he lays down his ace of clubs and gets a pleasant dividend. West does hold the king of clubs but that is the only club in his hand. He has to play it on South's ace."

Oswald: "It turned out that West held a gun but it wasn't loaded and South scores game and rubber."

Palatine Tops League Track; Elk Grove 2nd

by LARRY EVERHART
Track & Field Editor

If the Mid-Suburban League track meet had been run at Arlington Park, with the teams handicapped and payoffs made accordingly, no one would have made much money.

The "morning line" had Palatine listed as an odds-on favorite to capture the meet (and with it, the conference title), with Elk Grove figured as the strongest challenger and Wheeling and Hersey next in line.

And the whole evening went exactly according to form at Forest View Friday night.

The Pirates of coach Joe Johnson took their first track title since 1967 by 11 points over Elk Grove, which made it interesting until the last few events. Wheeling was next and Hersey, with a thrilling mile relay finish, edged out Fremd by one point for fourth.

Others, in order, were Arlington, Conant, Glenbard North, Prospect and Schaumburg (tied), Forest View and Rolling Meadows.

It was only the Pirates' second conference title in any sport in the last five years (the other being in cross country last fall). Fremd won the track crown last year.

Although there were no surprises team-wise, there were a few of them — plus some very close and exciting races — in the individual picture. Many personal and team peaks were reached and many times worthy of the area honor roll — too many to list here. The weatherman cooperated with an ideal night.

There were two double winners for the night, both coming through as favorites for each event. They were Elk Grove's hurdles whiz Frank Taucher (:14.8 in the lows, :19.9 in the highs) and Palatine distance standout Brian Barnett (9:26.2 in the two-mile, 4:20.5 in the mile).

Three conference meet records were broken, all by Elk Grove, with two coming in the same event. Taucher and Dave Jensen each were timed in :19.9 in the 180-yard low hurdles for one standard and temmate Jeff Schroeder set the other with his 21-6¾ long jump.

Jensen had run a :19.7 and Taucher :19.9 previously this year for the best area times. Schroeder's leap wes a quarter-inch off the area's top mark of the year — 21-7 by Prospect's Ray Nee.

Probably the most impressive events overall, in terms of previous marks, were the 440-yard dash, 880-yard run, mile run, pole vault and long jump.

In the quarter-mile, Dan Leider of Hersey nosed out Jim Stauner of Palatine, each receiving a :50.5 time. That's the best in the Herald area — Leider having a :50.9 and Stauner :51.4 going into the meet.

The other three placers in the same event also posted personal highs — Prospect's George Busse with :50.8, Conant's Warren Olson with :51.4 and Hersey's Chris Cooney with :51.6.

The top two times in the area also were recorded in a rousing half-mile race with Bill Schumann of Wheeling turning in a dazzling winning time of 1:55.6. Arlington's Tom Jarm was a second behind at 1:56.6. Fred Miller of Palatine, Bill Lawler of Glenbard North and Dave Helmer of Wheeling also were below two minutes to place.

In the mile, the winning time of 4:20.5 by Barnett also was an area best for the

WELL IN FRONT of the pack as the winner of the two-mile run in the Mid-Suburban League meet at Forest View Friday is Palatine's Brian Barnett. He posed his best time of the year, 9:26.8, as he also did in winning the mile in 4:20.5. Barnett was one of two double winners in the meet, leading Palatine as expected to the team title. Call it justification since each had lost a one-stroke conference heartbreaker its last time out. Maybe it was revenge since neither was effective in the Conant Invitational last month.

Whatever the reason, Palatine and Forest View were at their best Friday in the first leg of the state golf tournament. While other powers buckled under the intense pressure, the Pirates and Falcons cooly shot their way to sectional berths by virtue of finishing among the top three teams at their respective districts.

Palatine survived what many considered to be the state's toughest district test at Hersey. In nailing down the third and final qualifying spot, the Pirates ousted teams like St. Viator, Prospect, Barrington and host Hersey from further competition.

Forest View was equally as dazzling amid the 16-team field comprising the St. Edward of Elgin District. The Falcons clicked for an impressive second-place finish, decisively ahead of pre-meet favorites Lake Park and Fenton.

The teams played seven boys and tallied the top four scores in quest for advancement. The first three teams and top three individuals at each district earned the green light for sectional competition.

PIRATE FORMULA: CONSISTENCY

Weather was a poor excuse for failure at Buffalo Grove where 15 squads teed off in the Hersey District. As temperatures climbed into the 70's, plunged into the 70's with Deerfield scores emerging as a clear-cut winner with 308 strokes.

Lake Forest, behind medalist Scott Webster's brilliant par 72, notched second with 315 while Palatine was just two strokes back at 317.

St. Viator missed the cutoff in fourth with 320 and Barrington and Hersey deadlocked for fifth with totals of 322. Arlington and Highland Park shared seventh at 325 with Prospect ninth with 327 and Crystal Lake 10th with 332.

Wheeling achieved 11 with 335, Fremd 12th at 339, Cary Grove 13th at 341, Lake Zurich 14th at 361 and Stevenson 15th with 372.

Palatine rode Dave Hefner's sparkling 39-38—77, Jim Sobczynski's equally fine 38-40—78, John Lonergan's 40-41—81 and Jim Arden's 40-41—81 into the sectional at Wheeling's Chevy Chase next weekend.

The Pirates will carry five boys into the competition and have added Doug Fyfe to the roster. Both Fyfe and Bob Capoun carded idential 89's Friday but Fyfe won a nine-hole playoff 42-43 to earn the nod. Mike Long was Palatine's seventh man with 48-48—96.

Viator's near miss was derived from Vic Incinelli's 79, 80's by Terry McDonald and Mike Brawley, 81's by Larry Wittek and Greg Muench, an 82 by Ray Carroll and Mickey Fitton's 85.

In earning a tie for fifth, Hersey parlayed Al Glaser's nifty 77 with 81's by Bruce Conroy and Ray Peterson, 83's by Mike Henry, Tom Schnell and Jeff Kallman and an 86 by Kurt Miller.

Arlington combined Chris Marszalek's 79 with 82's by John Gibbel, Jeff Palmer and Steve Sluka, an 84 from Steve Ringel, 89 by Steve Loughman and Dan Hahn's 90.

In stuttering into ninth, Prospect accumulated Bob Horwath's steady 78, John von Berg's 82, Scott Anderson's 83, an 84 by Don Tessmer, 85 by Scott Januzek, Rick Reed's 87 and Norm Schwartz's 88.

Bob Winter paced Wheeling with an 81 while teammates Mark Bull hit 84 and both Jack Kennedy and Chris Krolack 85's. Vince Allendorf contributed an 88, Dave Mehlberg an 89 and John McDougall a 93.

Craig Falkenthal was low man for Fremd with a round of 82 while Brian Brown chipped in with an 84, Joe Murken an 85, 88's by Pat Foxworthy and Bob Frank, an 89 by Lach Frew and a 92 by John Evans.

Lake Forest's Webster (72) and Deerfield's Dan Siegel (75) and Craig Rouhier (76) were the meet's three qualifying individuals. They would all have qualified anyway as members of advancing teams.

FALCONS FEAST

Forest View missed by just three shots of capturing the St Edward District played at rugged St. Andrews Golf Course. Addison Trail entered the winner's circle with 325 to Forest View's 328.

Elgin Larkin's 332 was the final qualifying team spot for the sectional to be hosted by Aurora East next weekend. Dundee missed by a shot of advancing with 333 while Lake Park notched fifth in 334.

Fenton landed sixth in 337, Elgin seventh at 338, Conant eighth in 339, St. Edward ninth at 340 and Maine North and Maine West tied for 10th with 347 strokes apiece.

Elk Grove netted 12th with 351, Rolling Meadows 13th in 371, Schaumburg 14th in 374, Irving Crown 15th in 394 and Glenbard North 16th at 398.

Dave Moody supplied the Falcon impetus with solid rounds of 39-41—80 while Gary Mayer's 40-42—82 and identical 40-43—83's by both freshman Eric Keyser and Pat Walsh were instrumental in supporting roles.

Mark Peters and Todd McDonald tied for Forest view's fifth sectional position with 44-43—87's, but McDonald has been given the nod by head coach Art Klein. Chuck Felice rounded out the Falcon scoring with 49-45—94.

Chris Dilger headed Conant's contingent with an 82 while Dave Love was a shot back at 83. Eric Brewner collected an 85, Jim Gannon an 89, Keith Kellogg a 90, Dave Domek a 92 and Kevin Eakins a 94.

Elk Grove only entered a quintet of players but got steady rtturns from Keith Moore (83), Scott Walker (84) and Todd Gander (85). Mark Okuma was the final counter wih 99 while Ernie Wollard cruised home in 100.

Rolling Meadows, playing in its first state district, counted 92's by Tom Carlstrom and Carl Schweikert, Todd Sander's 93, a 94 by John Stahl, Scott Werner's 96, Steve Nicholoff's 103 and Larry Murphy's 108.

Joe Castrogiovanni fired a 91 with teammate Leo Hoffman to share team honors for Schaumburg. John Richard toured in 93, Brian Masino in 99, Ron Gentuso in 105 and Tim Ryan in 106. Mike Moscinski was disqualified for failing to putt out.

Falcon Dave Moody, Addison's Jim Jaroch and Dave Nichols from Fenton also advanced by virtue of tying for second medalist honors with 80's. Dundee's Bob Wynn was the top individual with a round of 79 that included seven birdies.

Regional Tourney Begins

by KEITH REINHARD

Conant's baseball team takes on Immaculate Conception today at 4 p.m. in their quest to follow in the footsteps of the Cougar basketball team and reach the state championship playoffs.

Today's action is the opening round of regional play and Glenbard North in Carol Stream is hosting the affair. Three area teams are in the bidding for the number one spot there, which qualifies them for advancement to sectional action the following week.

Tomorrow St. Viator and Rolling Meadows will hook up in another semifinal bout. The winners of the Monday and Tuesday games will then clash on Wednesday, weather permitting, for the regional crown.

Game time each afternoon is 4 p.m.

Earlier this year Conant's cagers marched right through regional and sectional competition into the super-sectional finals at DeKalb before succumbing. It was the furthest any Herald area hardwood team has ever advanced along the tourney trail.

In baseball, all sectional winners advance directly to the state finals, being conducted at Peoria again this year, June 1-2. The Glenbard North regional winner will graduate to the Maine West sectional along with entries from Naperville, Niles West and Waukegan.

The best previous finish for a Herald area baseball team was in 1965 when a St. Viator nine reached all the way to the state finals before succumbing to Peoria Manual and settling for second place.

The Lions this year moved into regional play by easing past Hersey 3-2 and then knocking off Arlington 6-0. They'll play a brand new Mustang nine which qualified with victories over Glenbard North and Fenton.

Conant turned back Fremd and Barrington to earn their berth in today's contest and they'll face a Knight nine which emerged from a York district consisting of Driscoll, Addison Trail, West Leyden and the host Dukes.

Glenbard North High School is located in Carol Stream and can be reached by driving south on 53 to Army Trail Road, then west to Cloverdale and Gary Road. Then south on Gary Road and west again approximately a quarter mile later on Lies Road. The school is located another mile away at the intersection of Lies and Kuhns roads.

Cards, As Usual, Head Qualifying In District Play

Arlington, winner of its last 10 districts, heads a list of three schools that have already qualified for the state finals in tennis following many rain delays on Saturday.

Of the four districts that involved area teams, only the Cardinals' was completed. Joining the perennial winners were Prospect and Conant. Elk Grove could also have some qualifiers following play this afternoon at Maine West High School.

Coach Tom Pitchford had hoped that his Cardinals would qualify all six sports for the Champaign trip, but an upset helped prevent the sweep. Instead, two doubles teams and one singles player will advance.

Arlington's Jim Merkel, the defending district champ, had little trouble in taking another title. He defeated Bob Zimmanck of Prospect in the championship round, 8-6, 6-1. Zimmanck also advances.

Pitchford had the ultimate in enjoyment in the doubles championship with an all-Arlington finale. Don Rodig and John Paczkowski stopped Dana Morken and Jon Deevy, 7-5, 3-6, 6-4.

The Wheaton North District nearly completed play with only the singles title to be determined. Conant's Buddy Edmondson, not among the top seeded participants, will go against first seed Bob Rosebraugh of Wheaton Central this afternoon at 4:00. Even if Edmondson is defeated, this fine sophomore has already won a trip downstate.

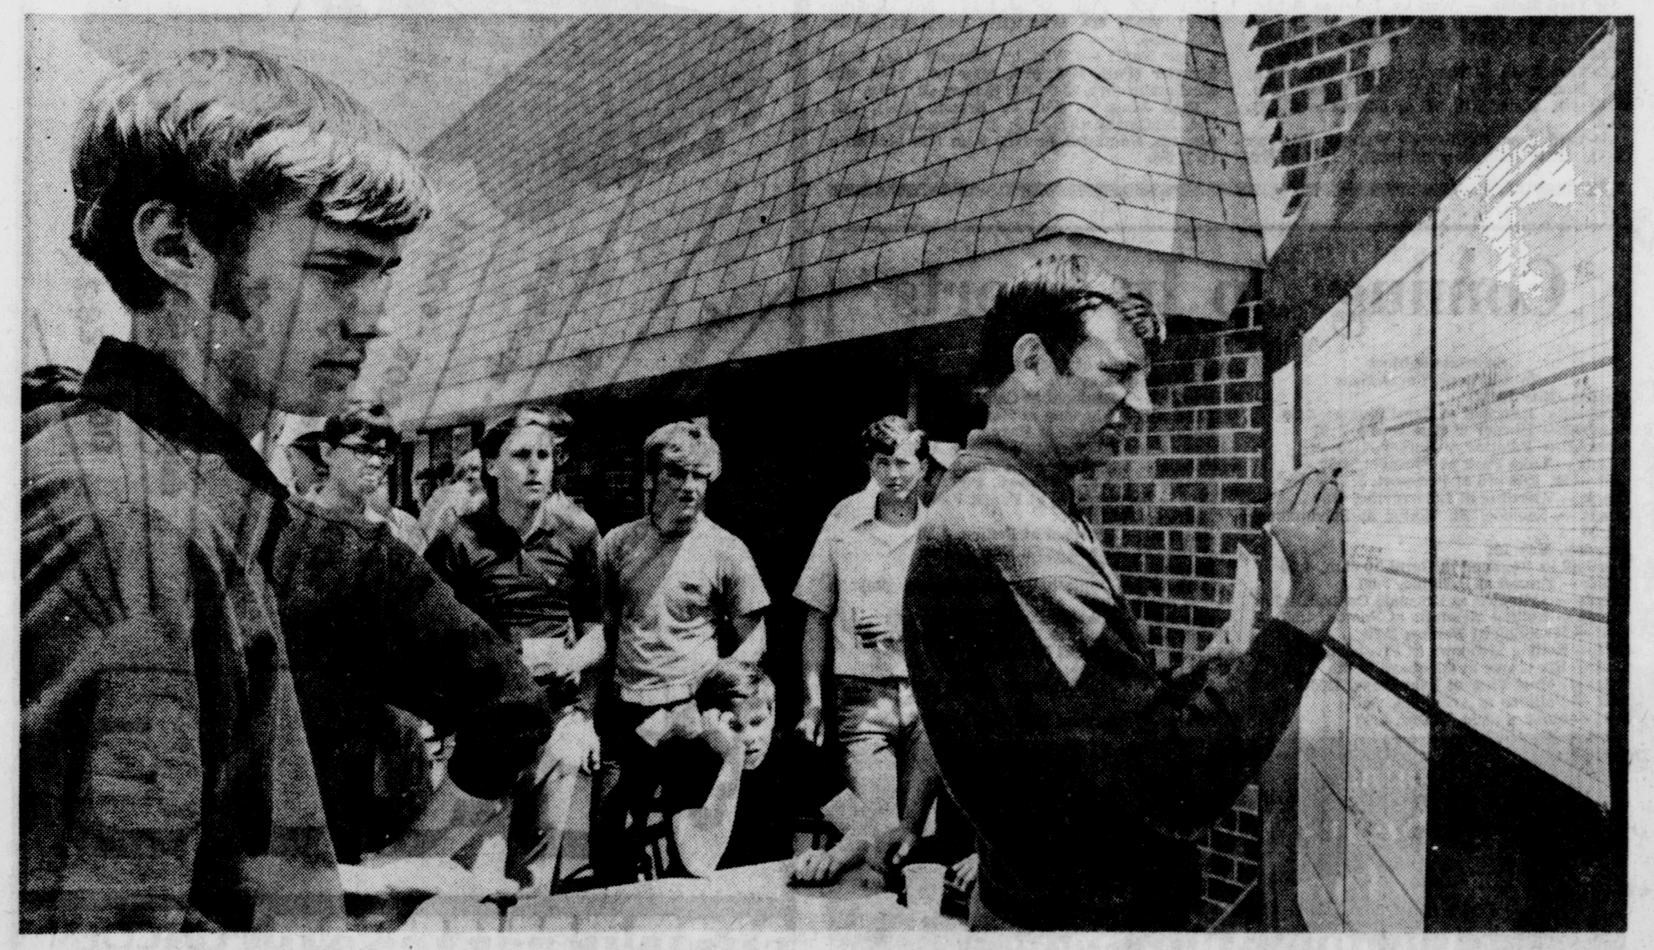

Another possibility is the Elk Grove doubles team of Mark and Len Greenberg. Playing in the Maine West District, this brothers act didn't get a chance to play Saturday because of rain. They won two matches on Friday and will take on a Glenbard East team in the semifinals this afternoon at 3:30. A victory here would put them in the finals and also assure them a spot in the state finals.

Merkel, his district's top seeded player, lost just three games en route to the finals. His wins came like this — over Fremd' Pat Irwin, 6-0, 6-1; over Forest View's Chuck Cooksley, 6-0, 6-0; and over Palatine's Kevin McNamara, 6-1, 6-1.

Zimmanck moved into the finals like this — over Rolling Meadows' Mark Shannon, 6-2, 6-1; over Palatine's Matt Borman, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2; and over Hersey's Tom Cassidy, 6-1, 6-3.

Rodig and Paczkowski came out of the lower bracket in this manner — over Fred Hoegler and Scott Dawson, 6-0, 7-5; over Rolling Meadows' Stan Hilty and Curt Anderson, 6-1, 6-0; and over Her-

SCORING STORY. While Hersey head coach Ken Carter posts the returns of the district golf meet at Buffalo Grove Golf Club, reactions of interested participants vary widely. Deerfield took honors with Lake Forest second, but Palatine captured a sectional berth by finishing third in the 15-team field. Fremd A Team Of Future Viking Sophs Top League

The word is out in Mid-Suburban League track circles — look out for Fremd next year and the year after.

The frosh-soph Viking thinclads — who have gone unbeaten in impressive fashion this year and won a couple of invitationals — confirmed their superiority by easily romping to the lower-level MSL title at Forest View Friday night.

Fremd's 70 points far outdid the host Falcons' 38 and Conant's 25. Other teams in order of finish were Hersey, Rolling Meadows, Glenbard North, Palatine, Arlington, Schaumburg, Wheeling, Elk Grove and Prospect.

Just as the Vikings are to be feared in the future in the team picture, so is Forest View sprinter Rick Mirro in the individual outlook. He was the star of the conference meet, being the only two-event winner and setting a record in the process.

Mirro bettered the MSL soph record in the 220-yard dash with :23.2 and also won the 100 in :10.6. The other record was set by Conant's Rick Phillips with 6-0 in the high jump. Phillips' name is found among varsity jumpers on the Herald area honor roll with a previous leap of 6-2.

Other individual event winners were John Miller of Fremd with 10:07.5 in the two-mile run, Jeff Brandl of Conant with :16.0 in the 120-yard high hurdles, Mike Rohrer of Fremd with 2:03.2 in the 880-yard run, Thompson of Glenbard North with :54.0 in the 440-yard dash, Steve Whited of Fremd with :21.7 in the 180-yard low hurdles, Chuck Ruppenthal of Fremd with 4:34.7 in the mile run, Jim Dilenge of Hersey with 19-2¼ in the long jump, Jon Sloan of Rolling Meadows with 50-10¾ in the shot put, Craig Brinkman of Forest View with 132-6 in the discus throw and Dave Hillert of Arlington with 12-0 in the pole vault.

Winning relay reams were Forest View's Ken Holan, Dave Matzl, Kurt Haaland and Mirro with 1:35.8 in the 880 and Fremd's Dave Scott, John Shiputis, Tom Fisher and Rohrer with 3:39.5 in the mile.

sey's Jeff Seeger and Guy Spinks, 6-2, 6-2.

Their teammate rivals advanced to the finals with similar scores — over St. Viator's Mark Savage and Tom Meyer, 6-1, 6-2; over Fremd's Jeff Leswing and Rich Cortney, 6-1, 6-2; and over Forest View's Jeff Rud and Dick Thompson, 6-2, -6-1.

Edmondson hurdled several challenges in his drive toward the Wheaton North District title. After polishing off Glenbard North's Mark Ables by 6-0 scores, he handled No. 3 seeded Sean O'Donnell of Wheaton St. Francis, 6-2, 6-4.

On Saturday he went against Glenbard West's Scott Luttrell, seeded No. 2. Edmondson was ahead 5-2 in games in the first two sets and lost both leads. The Cougars' ace pulled out the first set, 9-7, and lost the second, 6-8. The Cougars' ace pulled out the first set, 9-7, and lost the second, 6-8. Then Edmonson found himself down 4-1 in games in the third set.

"He just became more offensive-minded instead of defensive-minded in his play," said Roger McCoy, Conant's head coach. "And he also started going to the net."

Edmondson came back to win the third set, 7-5. Now he must face the first-seeded player — Wheaton Central's Bob Rosebraugh, a two-time state tourney player who has only given up three games in a like number matches.

The only other district involving an area team was the one hosted by Wheeling. It also will wind up this afternoon as Highland Park and Deerfield battle it out for the team title. The last two rounds will begin at 3:00.

Wheeling had a doubles team and a singles player advance past the first round. Vern Fish stopped Dan Fishbein of Stevenson, 6-3, 6-4, before losing to Barrington's Greg Russell, the second-seeded player, 6-0, 6-0.

John Kyle and Mark Shiozaki beat Lake Zurich's team of Stephanidis and Kirchner, 6-2, 6-3, before bowing out in the second round, 6-3, 6-1. The pair of Wildcat wins gave the hosting school three points and a tie for fourth with Lake Forest.

At Maine West, the Greenberg brothers beat a team from Willowbrook by 6-1 scores. Then they handled Addison Trail, 6-3, 6-0.

Also winning one round before being ousted were these Grenadiers — Bruce Kinn and the doubles team of Mike Smith and Jim Siebold. Kinn beat a Montini boy, 6-3, 6-3, and then lost by 6-0 scores to Dane Petchul, Glenbard East's No. 1 seeded player. The Smith-Siebold combination beat Addison, 6-1, 2-6, 6-3, and lost to Glenbard East, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4.

Conant's Marty Rohr won his first two matches before moving to the sidelines. After a pair of shutout sets against Glenbard North's Ben Homola, he beat fourth-seeded Fred Fischer of Wheaton St. Francis, 6-3, 6-1. Then he lost to Rosebraugh, 6-0, 6-1.

All of Schaumburg's entrants at Wheaton were defeated in opening round play on Friday.

Posting a pair of wins at Arlington before being eliminated were a Forest View doubles team and a Hersey singles player.

Hersey's Tom Cassidy was the only player at Arlington to win two matches before losing in the semifinals. He shocked Arlington's highly rated Bob Blomquist in the first round, 8-6, 4-6, 7-5. Then he handled Forest View's Art Jones, 7-5, 6-2 before losing to Zimmanck.

One of the highlights of the Arlington District was the stunning reversal in a first round match involving Rolling Meadows and St. Viator doubles teams. After losing the first set to Mike McMahon and Gary Aldrich, 6-1, the Mustang team of Hilty and Anderson came back from a 5-2 deficit in the second set to win the last two sets, 11-9, 6-4. Pitchford termed it "a very courageous match."

The final team standings went like this at Arlington:

year. Others posting their best times, in the 4:20's, were Fremd's Mark Nugent, Palatine's Scott Williams, and Elk Grove's Brian Powell. Damian Archbold of the Grenadiers also placed and Frank Walsworth of Hersey just missed.

The pole vault saw the area honor roll rewritten in times, but not in names. The best previous vault had been 13-0, but winner Greg Morand of Arlington was six inches over that and Paul Strealer of Palatine three better. Arlington's Dave Auge, Wheeling's Gerry McGlothlin and Hersey's Steve Sucher all hit 13-0.

Schroeder's record performance headed the long jump while Dave Kuntz of Hersey and John Hughett of Conant also had their best marks, 21-3 and 21-¾, respectively. Nee and Dan Mize of Fremd took fourth and fifth.

The mile relay was one of the most exciting events with Hersey anchorman Dan Leider coming from behind down the stretch to nip his man. Hersey's 3:27.9 beat Palatine by two-tenths. Conant, Elk Grove and Glenbard were next.

The first three members of that relay for the Huskies were Tom Black, Dave Jones and Cooney.

Another thriller was the 880 relay with Palatine's quartet of Kent Mundschenk, J. Dubiago, Paul Strealer and Larry Mennes beating out Wheeling. The winning time was 1:32.4. Fremd was third, Schaumburg fourth and Rolling Meadows fifth.

Kevin Danielson of Wheeling and Dubiago of Palatine were the top sprint stars, trading firsts and seconds in the dashes. Danielson took the 100 in :10.1, his best time and a tenth off the area's best. Dubiago came back to edge Danielson in the 220, :22.9 to :23.1.

Conant's George Swegles was third in both events. In the 100, Dave Krawczak of Wheeling was fourth and Paul Hacker of Prospect fifth. In the 220, Eric Porter of Schaumburg and Kuntz were fourth and fifth.

Barnett's other victory in the two-mile was his best time (9:26.8). Fremd's Nugent, Elk Grove's Powell, the Grens' Archbold and Schaumburg's Arnie Jackson rounded out the placers.

Taucher won by a relatively wide margin in the high hurdles with Jay Maxwell of Glenbard, Randy Stenberg of Elk Grove, Bob Casper of Schaumburg and Rich Fox of Prospect following.

The highs saw Maxwell following Taucher and Jensen with their record-breaking performances. Two Palatine boys, Jan Fitzgerald and Dave Bailey, recorded their best times with :20.9 and :21.2 respectively.

Mark Chidley of Arlington justified his favorite's role in the shot put with 51-10 to win it. Bob Sloan of Rolling Meadows had his best effort of the year with 51-1½, as did Dave Schneider of Forest View (50-4¾) and Ken Vale of Fremd (50-1½). Wheeling's Bill Chlebek was fifth.

The top two in the discus were also as expected with Elk Grove's Jim Leopardo winning with 147-1 and Fremd's Jerry Finis next with 136-7. Also placing were Pat Buhrke of Forest View, Bob Scott of Hersey and Rich Miller of Conant.

It was the same in the high jump with favorites ruling. Winner Jim Brandt of Palatine and Howie McCarthy of Fremd each went 6-3, Warren Jacobsen of Elk Grove 6-0, Rich Hammesfahr of Hersey 5-10 and George McFarlin of Wheeling 5-8.

Now that the conference season is over (except for a Palatine-Fremd dual at Palatine Tuesday starting at 7 p.m.), the thinclads can start preparing for the district meet.

All Herald area teams will gather at Prospect this Friday night to try to qualify for the state meet in Charleston a week later.

Lion Skein Reaches 53

St. Viator blistered its home Rob Roy golf course in an incredible round of 154 to outclass St. Patrick's 161 for its fifth straight Suburban Catholic Conference triumph and 53rd unbeaten dual-meet overall.

The Lions rode 38's by Larry Witteck and Mike Brawley to the conquest, but solid support also came from 39's by Vic Incinelli and Keith McDonald, 41's by Mickey Fitton and Terry McDonald and a 43 by Ray Carroll.

The Shamrocks countered with Jack Sabek's 38, Joe Bartkowicz's 39, 42's by John Kloc and Marty Burghgraef, Al Osiecki's 45 and a 46 by Mark Jaeger, but they were far off the winner's pace.

Even the frosh-soph Lions were in sparkling form as they clipped St. Pat's underclassmen, 159-163. Jim Pavik led the Viator contingent with an outstanding one-over-par 36.

The 336 dimples on a golf ball, which are supposed to help the trajectory and rise of the ball, were no help to Paul Benrud and Joe Haughey playing Tuesday night in Union Oil Men's Golf League. Both must have cut several smiles as they picked up 10s on the same hold at Palatine Hills, but Haughey won tht handicap hole.

Art Jorgensen took all honors for the evening with a low gross 42, low net 35 that included pars on 2, 6, 7 and 8. Ken Dolen led the sub play with par golf on the 15th, 16th and 18th.

Earl Leggett was the only golfer to par both 13 and 14. Joe Courtney and Lee Leclair both birdied the water hole 7th.

THREE POINT winners Tuesday were Jorgensen and Ken Samuelson of Team 3, Don Christoffel, team 7, and Randy Johnson, team 10.

Bracket leaders: No. 1 man, Lou Mehl, 5 points; 2 bracket, Samuelson, team 3 with 4½ points; Don Wickert, team 1, bracket 3 with 5 points. Five golfers tied for bracket 4 leader with 3 points: Bob Scott, Cas Kuharski, Mike Gibbs, Courtney and Johnson.

Monday night play in the Union League was rained out.

Lions Have Shot At League Honors

by PAUL LOGAN

A pair of conference wins and a trio of non-league victories highlighted play Thursday for local tennis teams.

St. Viator kept its hopes alive for a Suburban Catholic Conference title with an easy decision over Carmel. In the other league affair, Conant moved up in the Mid-Suburban standings with a win over Prospect.

Meanwhile, Palatine made it five straight at Elmwood Park. The other two wins were recorded by two teams that haven't tasted success much this season — Wheeling and Schaumburg.

ST. VIATOR 5, CARMEL 0

Only once in its SCC showdown was St. Viator pushed three sets in recording its league record to 6-2 and its overall mark to 12-5, the most wins by any area team this season.

Mike McMahon crushed Mike Craine by a pair of 6-0 scores in first singles. Mike Revnes, going at No. 2 singles, stopped Tom Coates, 6-3, 6-1. Tom Wenzel, only a freshman, ended his first season on the varsity with a perfect record (10-0) by handling Chuck Skiera, 7-5, 6-2.

The first doubles team of Mark Savage and Tom Meyer had little trouble with Ben DiMuro and Mike Looby, 6-1, 6-2. However, Tom Cole and Tom Marshall had to go the distance against Steve Uhler and Paul Jankowski, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1.

The St. Viator frosh-soph team also kept in the running to defend its SCC title with a 5-0 victory, the fifth win against three losses.

CONANT 3, PROSPECT 2

The Cougars have been playing tough in the clutch the past four meets with consecutive 3-2 victories. This latest win was more important than some of the others for it moved them up in the MSL standings.

Conant won the meet in singles play — Buddy Edmondson over Bob Zimmanck, 6-0, 6-4; Marty Rohr over John Waters, 6-3, 6-0; and Jim Michaels over Steve Ristow, 6-2, 6-4.

Winning first doubles for the Knights were Jeff Risteen and Mark Meves over Bruce Koehler and Vince Kirby, 6-3, 6-0. Chuck Clemins and Steve McMurry posted a pair of 6-2 scores against Mike Hennessy and Chuck Evans.

PALATINE 4, ELMWOOD PARK 1

Highlighting the Pirates' 11th win against just three setbacks was the first doubles win by Paul Clapper and Steve Snyder. This duo took on Ed Meyo and Dave Walter, a twosome that had won 17 straight matches. The locals won 9-7, 6-2.

Also winning in doubles play was the team of Fred Hoegler and Scott Dawson. They handled Gary Rathunde and Erwin Froehlich by 6-2 scores.

Matt Borman won first singles against Joe Kusper, 6-4, 6-3, Kevin McNamara capped the victory with a win over Don Kusper, 6-4, 8-6.

Mac Bennison, up from the frosh-soph team, lost to Fred Lee, 6-4, 7-5.

Elmwood won the frosh-soph meet because of Bennison's absence, 3-2.

WHEELING 4, MAINE NORTH 1

The Wildcats enjoyed themselves for the first time in 11 meets. After losing 10 straight, they handled the winless Norsemen with ease.

Winning were these 'Cats:

Vern Fish over Curt Mroz, 6-3, 6-1; Dave McAlister over Rob Rashkow, 6-1, 6-1; John Kyle and Mark Shiozaki over Legatowicz and Perlman, 6-2, 6-1; and Tim Havorsen and Chris Pienta over Schlarger and Tyckoson, 6-1, 6-2.

Regular second doubles man Dave Neukuckatz, playing third singles, lost a tough one to Jeff Brenner, 6-3, 5-7, 6-4.

The Wheeling frosh-soph team pulled off a first by winning on the same day with the varsity, 3-2.

SCHAUMBURG 4, WOODSTOCK 1

The Saxons captured their third meed in 12 tries on the efforts of two singles and two doubles victories. Responsible for the victory were these Saxons:

Bill Hommowun over Roger Smith, 4-6, 10-8, 6-3; Dale Fenwick over Rick Goebbert, 6-1, 6-0; Pete Biohl and Larry Willer over Tim Rachford and Tom Mitchell, 6-1, 6-3; and Rich Reese and Bob Hommowun over Brad Hansen and Ken Moran, 6-2, 6-4.

The Schaumburg frosh-soph team won 5-0.

Martin Silences Cards; St. Viator Tops District

by KEITH REINHARD

Errors and Ken Martin's pitching were a little too much for Arlington to overcome in their district baseball showdown with St. Viator Friday afternoon.

The Lions parlayed two miscues and a couple of timely hits into a pair of three-run rallies and then coasted on Martin's stellar twirling right into a district title, 6-0.

It was the same score the Cardinals had dished out to Forest View a day earlier to earn a crack at Viator in the finals, and they came back Friday to outhit the Lions 5-4 in quest of a second tourney victory.

BUT MARTIN, utilizing a sharp curve ball and excellent control as his chief weapons, spread the Arlington attack too thin to be very effective. And by not walking a man while striking out 11, he stayed mostly out of trouble to post the shutout and gain for his club a berth in the regionals this week at Glenbard North.

Arlington committed a total of six errors and completely frustrated a respectable mound effort by Jim Locascio, who also went the distance in absorbing the loss.

Only half of Viator's six tallies were in fact earned runs. Two of them were the result of powerful jolts however, including the second home run over the 340-foot fence in left field in as many days.

The Lions first reached the scoreboard in the second stanza on Ed Hellesen's bad hop single, Jim Bucaro's walk, a blooping base hit to right by Steve Collins and a fielder's choice. That's where the inning might have ended too, except a fly to left off the bat of Tom Swider was bobbled and two more runs came across.

In the top of the third another flyball was misgloved by Arlington and Stan Bobowski followed up on an out later by driving in the run with a three-base slash to left. Frank Cliggett promptly brought Bobowski and himself across home by lacing one over the fence at almost the exact location Card Ed Carpenter had slammed one on Thursday.

That was it. Locascio walked no others and yielded no additional hits but his teammates were unable to mount any serious threat against Martin.

Rick Kolari doubled to lead off the fourth but he died at second when a pop-up, a strikeout and a flyout followed. In the fifth Wayne Geyer also reached second leading off, via a single and a wild pitch but Martin whiffed the next batter and two more Cards popped out.

In the sixth a single and an error offered Arlington hope again but Martin sandwiched three strikeouts around the two baserunners. The crafty southpaw wrapped things up with another final strikeout in the seventh following an error, a double play and an error.

Harper Rallies, Whips Kennedy-King

by PAUL LOGAN

Harper College's baseball is presently on a hot streak that could carry it to its second straight Skyway Conference title.

Coach John Eliasik's Hawks were in action Friday against non-conference foe Kennedy-King, but the locals didn't let up. After losing a 2-0 lead, they came back to break the tie and edge out the visiting Chicago team, 3-2.

The Hawks, now 12-6 overall, appeared ready to blow K-K off the field in the first inning with help from the always present wind. Wally Wiener led off with a single to center and hustled his way into second when the fielder committed an error. An attempted pickoff failed and Wiener came around to score before the ball could be relayed in.

George Solomon followed with a single up the middle. Following an out, Bruce Eberle took advantage of a shallow-playing outfield by lofting a shot over the left fielder for a triple. That made it 2-0. The Hawks appeared on their way to a laugher.

However, there was a mixup after Bob Andreas walked. Eberle was caught off third and then Andreas was doubled up at first. Harper seemed to take several innings to recover from that double play.

In the meantime, K-K came back to tie the game. A walk, triple and single did the job in the fourth inning. The losers might have had a run before that had it not been for the rifle arm of Eberle. The big Harper catcher cut down two in the second and a like number in the third to kill off potential rallies.

Harper finally regained the lead for good in the eighth. A two-base error allowed Mike Honel to move into scoring position. Eberle, wielding the big stick again, stung a run-producing single.

Irv Hannenfeldt was the winning pitcher. He allowed just four hits, all coming in the first four frames.

This was a warmup for the four remaining SC games on the Hawks schedule. The Hawks are presently tied for the lead with an 8-2 record.

Joey Carpino Tops Tourney

Joey Carpino, a freshman at Fremd High School, bowled a 683 series with handicap to win the Captains and Officers Tournament at Rolling Meadows Bowl.

Joey is in her first year of bowling, and she carries a 102 average. She rolled a 461 scratch series in winning the tournament.

Harper Almost Pulls An Upset

Harper College nearly pulled off quite an upset last week. Going against a talented University of Chicago team, the Hawks lost a tie-breaker match to just come up short, 5-4.

Bruce Holland and Randy Fischer, going at second doubles, lost the first set, 6-4, but won the second, 6-3. Things were all tied at 6-6 in the third set with Dan Rosenhouse and Bob Stevenson. Then Harper lost it, 7-6.

The Hawks picked up three wins in singles play — Holland over Alan Friedman, 6-1, 6-3; Bill Hitzeman over Jon Rosenblum, 6-1, 0-6, 6-3; and Mark Thorsen over Dean Korne, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

The singles losses went like this — Rosenhouse over Paul Stevens, 6-2, 6-2; Alex Terras over Steve Cohen, 6-3, 6-3; and Kim Williams over Fischer, 6-3, 6-3.

Harper split in the other doubles matches. Stevens and Hitzeman stopped Friedman and Terras, 6-1, 6-4. However, Thorsen and Steve Maresso lost to Rosenblom and Williams, 6-4, 6-2.

"They did a nice job," said Coach Roy Kearns. "We were just going down there for a tuneup for the conference meet, and they just really took hold."

MSL Races Heat Up; Huskies, Falcons Hold Leads

Pirates Keep Hopes Alive; Edge Fremd

It was a "must" game for one team, while the other was already out of the race. The team that needed the victory the most got it.

Palatine kept its chances mathematically alive for a tie for first place in the North Division of the Mid-Suburban League with a tense 2-1 victory over cross-town rival Fremd Friday.

That left the Pirates with a 5-4 division record. Fremd, which finished 4-5-1 in the North, had been eliminated from contention the week before.

Palatine has one league game left against first-place Hersey (6-2), today if weather permits. they were to play Saturday but the Hersey diamond was too wet from heavy rains. The game is set for today.

The Huskies still must also take on Wheeling, which also has a 5-4 record in a three-way tie with Arlington and Palatine for second place.

The scrambled race is headed for a red-hot finish, with ties in the standings inevitable — possibly for first place. If that happens, other criteria would be needed to determine who would get a spot in the championship game against the South Division winner. The South race is just as close.

Palatine made sure that it will be playing for more than pride against Hersey when its ace pitcher, sophomore Buddy Hughes, hurled a seven-hitter with no walks and four strikeouts. The only run against him was unearned as he ran his division record to 5-1, owning every Palatine conference win.

Doug Pettit of Fremd pitched his usual fine game, also allowing seven hits, walking one and striking out seven. However, he still saw his record slip to 4-3 — mainly because Fremd could not take advantage of scoring opportunities, stranding nine runners.

Palatine jumped on top in the first inning when Steve Kirk singled and Steve Garoutte doubled him home. They waited until the fifth for their winning tally, exploding suddenly after two outs with no one on. Another Garoutte double and Andy Knotek's triple did the trick.

Fremd made things tense in the seventh with its unearned score that ruined Hughes' shutout bid. Bill Peterson and Kevin Phelan singled. Peterson was out on the basepaths but Phelan scored on an error before Hughes wrapped up the crucial win.

CORNERED BY KOLARI. Joe DiMaggio of Forest View tries to elude a tag by Arlington's Rick Kolari after getting caught in a rundown during semifinal district encounter at Hersey. DiMaggio was eventually tagged out and his team was eventually forced out of the tourney by the Cards, 6-0.

Forest View, Monroe Check Prospect, 5-0

From horrors to honors is the way Forest View might be describing its baseball season after the long campaign is over. After dropping their first seven ball games, the Falcons have rebounded into prime contention in the South Division.

In a crucial showdown with Prospect Friday, Forest View nibbled for single runs in five different innings and then relied on tight defense and Larry Monroe's five-hitter to best faltering Prospect, 5-0.

The Falcons coaxed eight walks from Prospect after starter Paul Obuchowski and his two successors and threatened in every inning. Mike Pryor, after being hit by a pitch and stealing second base, tallied on Bill Millner's single and an error in the outfield in the opening frame.

Craig Stiles was issued a leadoff walk in the second, advanced on a sacrifice and an infield out and raced home on Monroe's single to right for a 2-0 edge.

In the fourth, Bob Bergadon's infield hit, a walk, Pryor's single and another pass forced the third run across while in the fifth, Dale Schoenbeck's single preceded an error and two sacrifices that resulted in another marker.

The winners closed out the scoring in the sixth on Millner's second hit, a walk and Stiles base hit to left. Despite stranding a dozen baserunners, the Falcons managed to score their leadoff man in the inning on all five occasions.

While coming up empty-handed, Prospect flirted with the scoreboard all afternoon too. The Knights put their leadoff man on base in six of seven innings, but wasted opportunities left a total of 10 men aboard.

The Falcons' defense came to Monroe's rescue in the second and sixth frames with timely doubleplays to preserve the shutout. The big sophomore righthander walked four and fanned three.

Grove Cashes On 5 Conant Errors

The way the South Division baseball race is going in the Mid-Suburban League, just about every game now has a direct bearing on first-place — and possibly the division title.

That's how it was Friday when Elk Grove gratefully accepted some charity from hosting Conant for a 5-4 victory after a tense, see-saw battle.

The win kept the Grenadiers in the thick of the red-hot pennant race, one game behind leading Forest View (each has two to play). The Cougars are not yet out of it but would need help, being two games out of first in the loss column. Schaumburg also is still hoping for first.

The race is headed for a roaring climax this week, during which time all postponements must be made up. The playoffs are slated for this Friday with the South winner meeting the North champ for the conference title.

Conant had a big hand in beating itself Friday with five errors leading to three unearned runs. Chet Pudlosky was the victim of the miscues, going the distance on a yield of seven hits and three walks. He struck out seven, taking his first conference loss in four decisions.

Bob Streich was the deserving winner with four innings of no-hit relief. Jeff Stewart had pitched the first three frames.

Elk Grove wasted no time getting started in the first inning on a walk, error, and singles by Scott Pruitt and Steve Scholten — but only one run came out of it. The Grenadiers got another in the second on an interference call on the third baseman with two outs.

Conant took the lead with a three-run third that included singles by Gary Pemberton, Keith Steelman, Mike Cody and Dave Reynolds — the last three each driving in a run. A two-base error also helped.

Elk Grove jumped back on top 4-3 in the fifth when Tony Tringali led off with a double. After an error, a run scored on Pruitt's fielder's choice and the go-ahead tally on Scholten's second hit.

In the same inning, the Cougars came back to tie it when the Grenadiers entered into the generous spirit of the day. Two errors and a delayed double steal by Pemberton and Cody did the trick.

The winning score came in the top of the sixth. After one out, Tringali reached base on the last and most costly Cougar error. Tony stole second and scored on Bob Chen's game-winning hit.

Schaumburg In 2nd After 6-3 Victory

A five-run third inning eruption carried Schaumburg to a 6-3 triumph over visiting Glenbard North in conference baseball action Friday and kept their hopes alive for a first place finish in the South Division of the Mid-Suburban League.

The Saxons raked GBN starter Levy Abbott for five hits including Steve Hull's booming double to left and later fought off a rally by the guests to register their fifth triumph in eight division starts and maintain their grip of second place in the MSL South.

Randy Anderson picked up the winning verdict but he needed mound help from Frank Hannon after hitting a wild streak in the sixth frame. The hosts were sailing along on a 6-0 lead at the time but pinch hitter Daryl Feltes walked and Bill Zeman then reached on an error afterwhich Mike Gazzola laced a triple to left center to put the Panthers on the scoreboard.

Mike McHale followed up Gazzola with a two bagger and that's when Hannon came on in relief. He fanned the next hitter and yielded two groundouts after that and went on to preserve the victory for Anderson.

Schaumburg had struck paydirt in the third when Art Abraham walked and advanced on a passed ball. Marty Hjerstedt singled him in and then advanced to scoring position himself on a hit and run single off the bat of Jeff Larson.

Hull, the leading Saxon hitter, responded in turn with his two-base shot down the left field line and Schaumburg led 3-0. Dave Merrigan then singled and John Gimmler walked to load the bases and Anderson helped his own cause with a single to send in two more runs.

In the fourth the home team came up with an insurance run on Hjertstedt's walk, an error off the bat of Larson, Hull's sacrifice and a backfiring pickoff play.

International Entries Set For Headliner At Prospect

The first International Prep Invitational track and field meet has landed its first international entries, meet director Joe Nawton has announced.

A pair of twin brothers — Jim and Paul Craig of Don Mill, Ontario in Canada — have sent Newton written agreements to compete in the June 10 meet for graduated high school seniors in suburban Chicago. Their participation in the meet was arranged with the help of Ollan Cassell, executive director of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Both are middle distance runners. Jim has covered the half-mile in 1:54.9 and Paul the mile in 4:13.

Newton also announced that two events have been added to the program: the hammer throw and an international mile relay bringing together all-star units from the Eastern and Western United States and the foreign entries.

The entry list has now hit 62 with 18 states, the District of Columbia and Canada represented. California leads the state entires with 18. Host Illinois and Texas have eight apiece.

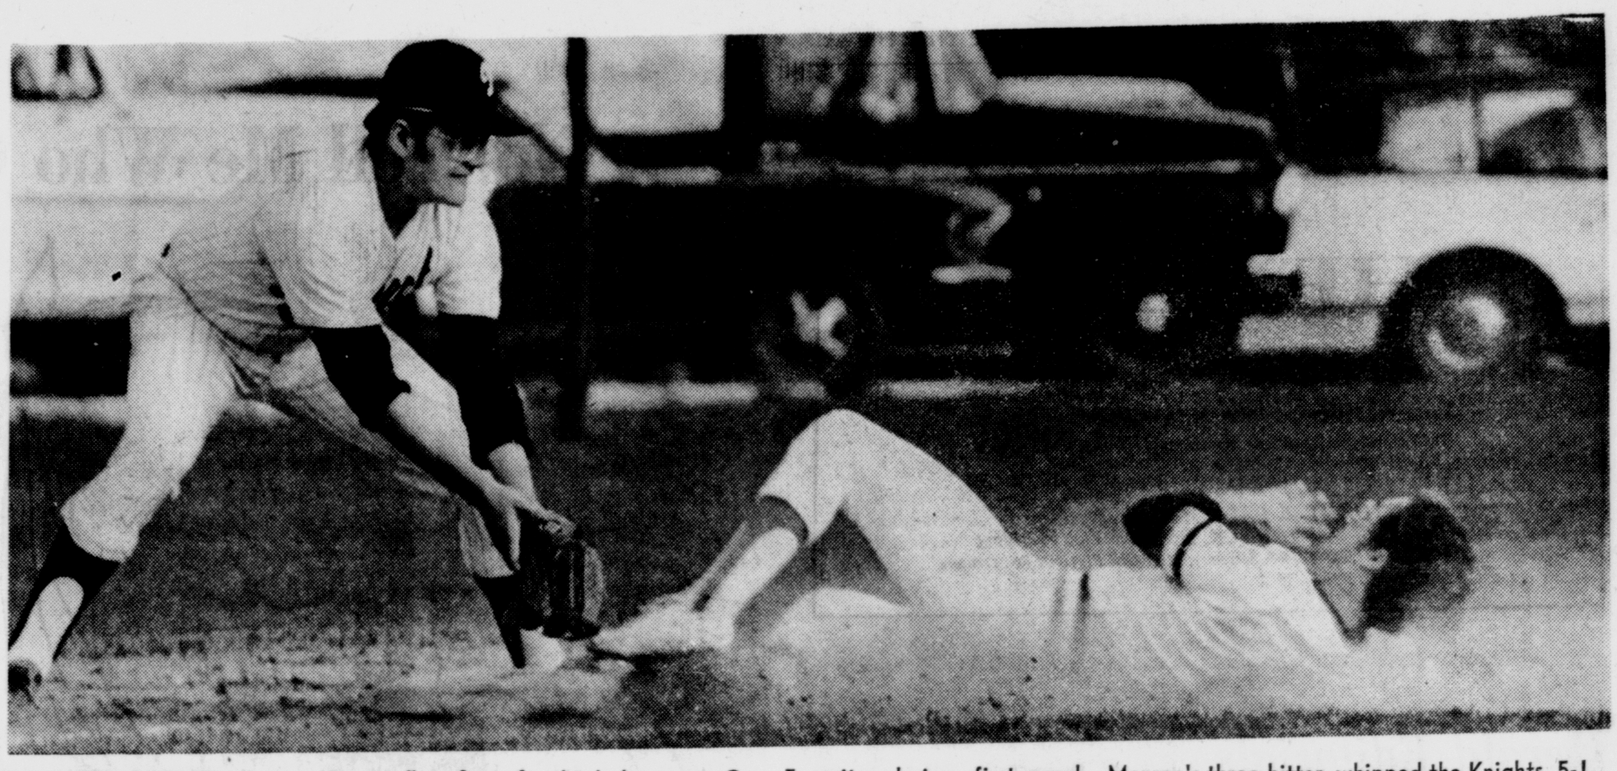

Among the latest batch of entries is the nation's No. 1 ranked prep quartermiler, Mike Carter of Pine Bluff, Ark. He's run the 440 in 47.4 seconds.

A fantastically versatile athlete — Michael Grant of Mobile, Ala. — has also joined the fold. He comes in with marks of 23-11 in the long jump, 48-7 in the triple jump and 13.8 in the high hurdles to his credit.

Illinois' entries grew with the addition of Urbana's Doug Laz — son of the University of Illinois' pole vault star of the early 1950s, Don Laz — and Glenbard West's Randy Beebee. Young Laz has cleared 15-5 in the pole vault; Beebee is a 1:54.7 half-miler.

In related news, earlier International entries have since taken over the national lead in their events. Ron Semkiw, a shot putter from Pittsburgh, has hoisted the iron ball 68-11 and Al Sandova of West Covina, Calif., has cleared 15-7 in the pole vault.

All tickets for the event, sponsored by the Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Chicago, are $2. They can be obtained by writing Ron Menely, the ticket manager, at Fremd High School, Palatine, Ill., or by contacting him by phone at Area Code 312, 358-6222.

Guenther, Rohloff Win Titles

Don Guenther of Arlington Heights rolled a record 1448 with handicap to win the 14th Annual Beverly Lanes 600 Club Tournament.

Don had games of 217, 172, 178, 215, 241 and 245 for a six game scratch total of 1268. His handicap was 180 as he carried only a 155 average for the past season.

To be eligible to bowl in the tournament a bowler must have bowled a 600 or better series at Beverly Lanes this season. Don qualified by rolling his 600 the last night of his league season.

Second place went to Bob Buechner of Arlington Heights with a big 1313 total. Bob had games of 227, 225, 191, 202, 214 and 166. He had a handicap of 88 pins for the six games.

The 550 Club Tournament for the Ladies was won by Connie Rohloff of Wheeling with a score of 757. Connie had games of 212, 168, 174 and 179 plus her 24 pin handicap for the 4 games. She had a 171 average for the season.

Dolly Siebert of Arlington Heights came in a close second with 753 on games of 161, 165, 218 and 151. Dolly had a handicap of 58 pins as she carried a league average of 158 this season.

Wheeling Tops Maine North

Maine North's tennis team went against another team that has had a very long and losing season, but the Norsemen couldn't come up with a victory.

Hosting Wheeling won all but one match for a 4-1 decision Thursday, the Wildcats' second win of the season. The victory almost ended a 10-meet losing skid.

Jeff Brenner was the only Maine player to register a win. He stopped Dave Neukuckatz in third singles, 6-3, 5-7, 6-4.

In other singles action, Curt Mroz lost to Vern Fish, 6-3, 6-1, and Rob Rashkow lost to Dave McAlister, 6-1, 6-1.

Ed Legatowicz and Mike Perlman lost to John Kyle and Mark Shiozaki in first doubles, 6-2, 6-1. Dave Schlarger and Dave Tyckoson lost to Tim Havorsen and Chris Pienta, 6-1, 6-2.

Wheeling also won the frosh-soph meet, 3-2.

Beverly, Elk Grove To Host Pro Stars

Three of the great stars of professional bowling — Billy Hardwick, Esther Woods and Dick Ritger — will be putting their talents on display here shortly in a unique program designed to instruct local keglers while giving them an opportunity to challenge the champs.

The stars will be here May 24-25 as faculty members for the Lucky Ten Bowling Clinic and Champion Challenge program, sponsored by the makers of new, low tar Lucky Ten cigarettes. During the program, conducted in cooperation with AMF and local bowling proprietors, Hardwick, Mrs. Woods and Ritger will conduct 11 clinics.

The schedule includes a clinic on Wednesday, May 24 at Beverly Lanes, 8 South Beverly Lane, Arlington Heights at 10:00 a.m.

On Thursday, May 25 there will be a clinic at Elk Grove Bowl, Inc., Higgins and Arlington Heights roads, Elk Grove Village at 10:00 a.m.

In the first hour of each clinic, Hardwick, Mrs. Woods and Ritger will give a quick, but detailed course in bowling instruction designed to help all bowlers regardless of their averages. It will include the all-important aspects of proper ball fitting and drilling, stance, approach and ball release for various type deliveries.

At the conclusion of the Lucky Ten Clinic, the Champion Challenge takes the spotlight. Lucky Ten Champion Challengers have been decided in most pins over average qualifying in area bowling centers, with each center having at least one man and one woman representative. Participants in the Lucky Ten Champion Challenge must be 21 years of age or older.

The two pros will roll a single game with the Lucky Ten Pinners, and there will be special prizes for the men and women who go the most pins above their average in the single game they roll with the stars.

The high scoring man and high scoring woman will each receive a new AMF ball and specially designed Lucky Ten bowling bag.

The next two scorers of each sex will receive handsome Lucky Ten Pinner Bowling Pin Ice Buckets. The next three men and women receive AMF bowling bags with a Lucky Ten Champion Challenge emblem. All competitors receive a Lucky Ten Champion Challenge shirt patch.

Let's Protect Lake Michigan

Mayor Richard J. Daley notwithstanding, we still back the Lake Michigan Bill of Rights, currently under consideration by the Illinois Legislature.

Until Wednesday, it appeared that HB 2532 would be the sole powerful weapon to protect Lake Michigan against the incursion of an airport. Backers of the bill repeatedly emphasized that point.

However, last Wednesday Mayor Daley junked the lake airport: "I am unequivocably opposed to building an airport in the lake. I say it with sincerity. I love this city and I love its people, and this administration would do nothing to deface its greatest asset — the lakefront."

Those are positive words for those of us concerned about the environmental disaster an airport would have created. With the Mayor's word on the matter, and with his political clout behind it, it appears there won't be any lake airport, at least until the year 2000.

Discarding the airport, however, doesn't mean the lake is protected. Although we quarrel with some provisions of the proposed Lake Michigan Bill of Rights, it is a solid document designed to protect future generations of Illinois residents.

Our quarrel is with provisions which would give the state control of building construction via zoning within a mile and a half of the lakefront.

That's a provision which would give the state zoning control as far inland as the Loop's Chicago and North Western station — an excessive amount of state control.

The provision is designed to prevent high-rise developments from obscuring the view of the lake. More important is to protect the lake itself than to worry about visibility. Keep the lake's beaches open, that's one key to the issue.

The nature of Lake Michigan argues for many of the provisions of the bill, which cover sewage discharge, land fill projects and construction of breakwalls. Too often we forget that the lake is not only the "property" of Chicago — it also borders on a number of north and south shore suburbs, and it touches the boundaries of Wisconsin, Indiana and Michigan.

Its beaches serve the residents of the entire Chicago area — and its water serves not only 120 area communities but in the future will provide increasing water services to DuPage County, for example.

Clearly, we must plan for the future, to avoid a bacteria-infested, polluted, murky pool similar to what Lake Erie has become.

Leave such a responsibility in the hands of the patchwork of governments along Lake Michigan's shores, and you shall have a patchwork of protection.

Allow the state to take a broader role in setting water pollution standards, and the chances are increased that, by the year 2000, the lake will be a continuing source of recreation and, indeed, survival for Northern Illinois.

Boosting Beards

The wonder is not that so many men are sporting beards these days but that men have ever taken the trouble of shaving, especially back in the dark ages before stainless steel blades or electric razors or scented, medicated shaving creams.

"The man who grows a beard because he considers shaving a waste of time has a valid point," says Dr. Herbert Mescon, professor and chairman of the Department of Dermatology at Boston University School of Medicine.

In his 55 or so years of shaving, the average man will spend roughly 3,350 hours, or 139 days, looking at his puss in the mirror while hewing his daily growth of about 0.17 of an inch of hair (roughly ½ inch a month).

But be thankful you don't live in Polynesia, says Mescon. Men there still remove their whiskers with pieces of seashells or sharks' teeth that have been ground to a fine edge.

Of course, maybe they don't have much else to do in Polynesia.

China's No Wastecan

Newsmen who covered President Nixon's visit to China are still talking about how difficult — nay, impossible — it was to dispose of anything.

Wire service photographer Bill Achatz, for one, says he left a bottle of gin in his hotel room. "When I got to the airport, as we were leaving, a guy threaded his way through the crowd, tapped me on the shoulder and said, 'You left this bottle back in your room.'

"Someone else tried to get rid of a pair of old shoes and a couple of wire coat hangers at the hotel. They were delivered to him."

Maybe there's a clue here as to how the nation can solve some of its immense waste disposal problem — just require each of the several million visitors who come here every year to take back everything they brought in, plus an extra box or bag of our own junk.

Kinsolving's Stand Hit

I'd like to know why Lester Kinsolving takes such delight in throwing spears at Dr. Preuss, president of the Lutheran Church (Missouri Synod). Those of us who believe that pure doctrine and Bible-based theology must be maintained are thankful that God has given us a leader who is firm in his stand on inspired scripture. If others wish to waiver and change with every liberal breeze, that is their privilege. However, I don't believe one has the right to scoff at those who have the courage to stand up for the authenticity and authority of God's Word. I'm dismayed that it should be a minister who has chosen to do so. Could it be jealousy — does he perhaps recognize a courage he himself lacks? Don't ridicule the tight rope walker if you can't walk the straight line yourself!

God has blessed Missouri Synod through Dr. Preuss who has followed God's command to "Hold fast the faithful Word as he has been taught that he may be able by sound doctrine to exhort and convince the gainsayer." (Titus 1:9) I'm also getting tired of his reference to "Misery Synod" — name calling is not a Christian virtue. A good many of us are quite 'joyful in the Lord.'

Vietnam . . . Vietnam . . . Vietnam . . .

The War's An Issue — Again

Mr. Nixon's policy of Vietnamization lay in ruins for all the world to see. Like other policies of our nation in Viet Nam since 1954 it has crumbled amidst the blood, broken bones, and burned flesh of American and Vietnamese persons, and laid to waste to a beautiful land which some call home.

This preposterous military engagement now leads us further into folly and risk. We fight and kill many thousands each month for years to save lives. We arm puppet governors of our policy with extravagant weapons and bemoan lesser aid to our adversary by others.

After Mr. Nixon's speech on Monday evening I sat once again stung by betrayal. I had thought myself almost immune to deceptive language, twisted reason, and moral blindness on the part of our national leadership. But I am not immune — not yet. In our pain and our wrong doing I think the last lines of Rudyard Kipling's poem, "Recessional:"

"For frantic boast and foolish word
Thy mercy on thy people Lord."

My scream: Forgive Us Lord For We Have Knowledge of what we do.

Good Lord! Within a span of two minutes both hizzoner the mayor of Chicago and commentator Len O'Connor joined the hysterical heralders of doom in wringing hands vocally about President Nixon over-betting his hand in the poker game he plays with the Kremlin crowd. I am caused to examine the four cards face up and concede the nuclear hole cards are of equal value.

In Brezhnev's hand:

—An internal populace becoming used to seeing for the first time since the Bolsheviks took power a few extras in tasty foodstuffs, modern clothing, appliances, etc. etc. at marketing centers, a feature these long-denied workers would not tolerate being slowed in favor of expenditures that might be required to retaliate for the blockade.

—Satellites (Czechoslovakia, Poland, Latvia, Lithuania, East Germany, etc.) to the west who have been kept "liberated" by Soviet tanks and bayonets and whose peoples would instantly jump at any opportunity to make themselves "unliberated."

—Predominantly rural populace who would be required to remain tillers of the soil, prohibiting any substantial acceleration in output of war or industrial equipment.

—China longing to affect certain long-sought revisions in boundary lines with the Soviets,, as well as anxious to establish Mao & Co. as bell-ringer for the Communist religion, plus Japan watching carefully for opportunities that might arise — USSR proper isolated and contronted with revolting satellites and a hostile world except Cuba.

In Nixon's hand:

—A people with impeccable record of non-imperialistic leaning and unparalleled humanitarian action toward all peoples of the world, insuring overall support.

—Industrial and agricultural manpower to spare.

—Certain reelection if Soviets make too great a mistake.

—Affording the Kremlin, who call the shots for North Vietnam anyhow, hero's role in stopping hostilities now and looking to coup-de-grace of South Vietnam somewhere beyond the four-month period specified.

The comintern is not made up of fools or amateurs. They rule absolutely, and the approximate 16 million Soviet citizens allowed thus far membership in the communist party are not made up of 18-20-year-old bearded, longhaired idiots such as recently given voting rights in our country. And the media in Sovietland gets no opportunity to put on the air or in print the views of "experienced" unbiased reporters or politicians interested only in presenting views winning the applause of those with intellect of eight-year-olds, the criterion in our country.

Our chief executive is a good poker player. Let's not kibitz to his disadvantage.

The greatest disappointment I have had in growing up is to learn and realize the many evils America has done through its greed and arrogance. There are many things of which we can be proud, but there are many things of which we should be ashamed.

One of the greatest evils I believe to be the war in Vietnam. Many times I have argued this through fact and reasoning and morality, but the recent decision by the President to blockade North Vietnam caused me to turn to an emotional outlet for my argument. The night of his announcement I wrote this poem.

Jungle,
you hide your scars well.
How many graves lie unmarked and unsought beneath your beautiful foliage?
And if you could speak,
what answers would you give?
Mother,
do not weep.
For children sometimes die
And even though life should not be so cruel, when all that it offers is a gun and a flag,
perhaps the only peace lies in death.
Soldier,
Whether you dream of the good life that you shall never know or of the terror and the pain that always surrounds you, your dreams must be your deepest wounds.
Vietnam,
you are a land of tears.
From the ghostly depths of your jungles,
from the trembling lips of your mothers, and from the nightmares of your soldiers thunders the question, "Why?"

Jim Abb
Elk Grove Village

Does anyone here remember the wonderful coming home ceremonies they had for some of our fathers and grandfathers, returning from WW II? I don't, I wasn't even thought of then, but I have seen some very moving film strips, documentaries and "movies."

Just because we don't agree with the Vietnam "War" and the way the officials are handling it, why have we decided to quietly celebrate Vietnam returning fathers, sons, husbands and lovers? Why aren't there a lot of us out there waving the flag, which I hope we still believe in, singing, cheering and throwing big, happy homecoming parties?

What about getting yourself and your neighbors out of bed early and moving down to the airport to greet "him" — let him know you are proud and you have been waiting. Act as glad and as proud as you feel. I don't mean just immediate families and relatives getting out there to greet him. What is wrong with the rest of you? We all know at least one soldier returning.

There must be something we, as a community can do. Isn't there a committee in every town that gets everyone together to do the greeting? if not there should be. This committee, that, by its presence, would say to each returnee we are glad to have you back. Really glad. If there is such a committee I'd like to be on it. If not, why not make Mount Prospect a forerunner of such a thing. Try to remember that that soldier returning is a man, his is not Vietnam.

Wallace Story 'Rubbish'

The series of articles about Gov. George Wallace written by Ira Berkow may not have hit an all-time low in journalistic standards but it comes close.

His writing is on a par with what one might expect to find on a mimeographed flyer distributed at a Klan rally or labor strike. Berkow cannot possibly achieve the response he is seeking because his style is so radical and obvious no intelligent person could be taken in.

For a number of years I worked on journalism publications and I am truly startled that a chain so reputable as Paddock Publications would publish such irresponsible rubbish.

I have also worked on newspapers in Alabama and interviewed (and voted against) Gov. Wallace and he in no ways resembles Berkow's monster.

Bikers Thanked

We want to publicly thank the members of the Pagan Saints, the Road Vikings, the Cobras from Naperville, Ill. and the one member of the Hells Riders for their part in the funeral procession of our very dear and close friend, William Crews, who was killed in an auto accident on May 7. Bill was a recent member of the Pagan Saints, however the clubs stick together in times of sorrow or even when one member is in trouble.

We know a lot of people frown on them, their dress and bikes thinking they are out to start trouble but they aren't. Even the parents have had a change of heart toward these boys and girls.

There were two people killed in the tragic accident on Route 59 that Sunday morning, the other was Pamela Pabst who will be buried in Smithfield, North Carolina. She and her husband were also members of the Pagan Saints and both very good people. Mike Pabst was injured and released from the hospital, but was at the funeral.

We just wish that other people would open their eyes and minds and realize that the boys and girls are very decent people and give them a chance, some of them even had their children and babies with them. Please give them a chance to live their lives as they see fit, and I know if you were having trouble on the road they would stop to give a helping hand in any way they possibly could.

Again our thanks to the Pagan Saints, the Road Vikings, the Cobras of Naperville, Ill. and Hells Riders.

Word-A-Day

Business Today

by LEROY POPE
UPI Business Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — After working 23 years in the Ballantine brewery at Newark, William Wolfe of Westfield, N.J., was fired along with 600 others last March 31 when Falstaff Brewing Co. of St. Louis bought the failing Ballantine company.

"I thought I could pick up a job as an automotive mechanic, and in any case I would get a pretty pension out of the union welfare fund," Wolfe told United Press International.

Then came the crusher. The pension fund had been so drained by retirements at Ballantine that the trustees no longer could buy annuities required to finance individual pensions.

"It looks as if 600 or more of us who worked at Ballantine never will get our pensions and those of the fellows in the other breweries in Newark may have to be cut," Wolfe said.

With a wife and two children to support, Wolfe is not finding it easy to get a well-paying job as an auto mechanic. "I'm 46 and they only want to give fellow my age part time work so they won't have to give us fringe benefits," he said.

The Ballantine case is just one example of the inequities and inefficiencies in private pension plans covering more than 30 million American workers and involving about $130 billion in assets. About 30,000 Americans who want to retire this year may discover the pension cupboards are bare and they can't collect a nickel.

WHY? SOME reasons are: Inadequate funding, utter neglect to make provision in drawing the plan for the possible failure of the employing company, a failure to vest pension funds specifically to individual workers or classes of workers, and failure to find a formula to make private pension funds portable, so a worker can change employers but keep his pension credits just as he keeps his Social Security credits.

Some corporations have made mistakes in setting up pension funds and some corporations owe their funds large sums. Dun's Review said last May Ford Motor Co. owed its pension fund $480 million. Ford said this figure since has been reduced to around $275 million. Ford is financially strong enough to pay that off, but the magazine questioned whether Western Union or Uniroyal could make good the $450 million they owed their employe pension funds.

Then there are the cases of individual suffering because of technicalities. Sen. Harrison Williams, D-N.J., uncovered the case of a shoe factory worker who paid into a union portable pension plan more than 30 years. He learned on reaching 65 he couldn't collect a penny because at one time he had been out of the shoe mills more than three years. Under the rules he forfeited everything.

Senator Williams has been holding hearings on pension reform for some time. Senator Jacob Javits R-N.Y., and Rep. John Dent, D-Pa., have introduced reform bills that already are becoming one of the most controversial issues before the American people.

Further hearings on the Javits' bill likely will be held, and it may reach the floor of the Senate this summer. There is little hope of action in the house before late fall or early next year.

WILLIAMS AND Javits have claimed that, as matters now stand, fewer than 10 per cent of those who pay into private pension funds ever collect a penny. That's mainly because about 80 per cent leave their jobs and the industry a few years after starting to pay into the fund. Their payments in a non-vested fund are then forfeited.

That's what the biggest row over the coming pension reform legislation is about — how much vesting shall be required. Williams and Javits want to make vesting compulsory down to the point that workers will acquire some permanent equity in a pension even if they pay into it for only five years. They also want to make at least a start towards a national system of portable private commercial and industrial pension funds.

Industry is opposed. Sidney Willis, pension expert of General Electric Co., says: "The Javits bill could put a big crimp in the formulation of new pension plans and discourage increased benefits in existing ones."

Most presidential candidates, including President Nixon, have come out for pension reform legislation.

Williams and Javits said they found many cases in which management executives funneled pension funds into loans or investments in companies in which they held interests.

Similar abuses have been uncovered in union pension funds.

Since pension fund income is tax free and so are the assets, Williams and Javits said they found cases in which companies used the pension fund as tax shelter to evade taxes on profits in good years.

Purchasers Hit U.S. 'Phase II'

The monthly questionnaire sent to representative groups of the Purchasing Management Association of Chicago, indicates that more than half of the purchasing managers reporting feel that Phase II Price Controls are not effective.

However, only 8 per cent indicate fewer orders received for their product, the lowest in months.

Prices paid for the principal items that they buy reflect 60 per cent paying higher, 40 per cent indicating the same, similar to the trend in February 1972.

The 25 per cent expecting higher profits compared to 30 per cent reported in March. This reflects much better expectations than a year ago.

Personal Finance

by CARLTON SMITH

The lines at the tellers' windows seem to keep getting longer and slower. Customers' tempers, in proportion, appear to be getting shorter.

We heard a prosperous-looking customer lose his cool recently and loudly inform a bank officer that, if they couldn't get another window or two open and get the line moving, he was going to take his account elsewhere. (Another window was opened.)

That's one way to deal with the problem. Bank customers are turning in increasing numbers to another solution: the mails. They simply never go near the place.

What some bankers refer to as "phantom banking" now covers nearly the whole range of services in many commercial banks — the so-called "full-service banks" — to the extent that thousands of customers are never seen inside the bank as flesh-and-blood people from one end of the year to the other.

A CHICAGO bank, Harris Trust, recently discovered that one customer they had "known" for many years, an architect, hadn't passed through the door in 30 years — though his office is only a short walk away.

Highland Falls, N.Y., has a population of less than 5,000, but the Marine Midland Bank there has a staff of 12 assigned to handle incoming mail. Not quite a typical case, this. The bank stands just outside the front gate of the military academy at West Point. Cadets who opened accounts there years ago now bank by mail from — well, a recent morning's mail included postmarks from Greenland, Kashmir, Australia, Kenya and Beanacre, England.

How customers are turning to "phantom banking" is indicated by the 21-day mail tally made recently by Merchants National in Aurora, Ill., population 74,000. More than 3,000 mail deposits poured in — most of them local, of course.

UOP Is 'Moving Upward'

Universal Oil Products Co. (UOP) continues to operate above budgeted levels for the second quarter of 1972, the firm's shareholders were told at its recent annual meeting in Chicago. The company is based in Des Plaines.

J. O. Logan, president and chief executive officer, said that first quarter 1972 earnings of 28 cents a share reflected one of the best first quarters in the company's history. He added that there was some unexpected licensing and royalty income during that period and the second quarter profit might therefore fall somewhat below that of the first quarter.

"By the end of the third quarter of 1971 when we reported our large losses and write-offs, the company was already moving in an upward direction as a result of corrective action which had started months before," Logan said.

UOP reported a successful fourth quarter in 1971.

Logan said that as a result of the favorable earnings trend, UOP is in an improving cash position. Capital expenditures in 1971 totaled $16.5 million and 1972 capital expenditures are projected at $14 million. Current emphasis is on profit-generating projects.

The principal item will be for expanded catalyst production.

Logan also said that the energy and environmental fields will be the focal point of much of UOP's effort in the immediate future. The company will also move to more effectively coordinate its interests in Europe.

Another area that will enhance the future relates to real estate holdings. A recently formed UOP Realty Development Corp. "will handle the sales of some surplus properties, will develop programs for other properties and will be responsible for site selection for new facilities when needed."

As previously reported, UOP had total revenues of $470 million and a net loss of $26.9 million or $2.69 a share in 1971. In the first quarter of 1972, earnings were $2,789,000, equivalent to 28 cents a share, on revenues of $107.6 million, versus $529,000 or 5 cents a share on revenues of $92.9 million for the similar period in 1971.

The Hollywood Scene

by Vernon Scott

HOLLYWOOD (upi) — Among the strangest tales behind the celluloid curtain is the success and history of "Love Story," one of the five most profitable motion pictures ever made.

While Paramount executives took bows, Erich Segal's novel became a best-seller and Ryan O'Neil and Ali MacGraw established themselves as film stars, the real credit escaped the man responsible for the saga.

He is Howard Minsky, an agent for the William Morris outfit with the strange odyssey of "Love Story" began.

"I decided at age 55 with my experience I should be able to make a picture on my own," Minsky said. "So I bought a property that was so bad William Morris, the largest talent agency, wouldn't handle it.

"IN THE BEGINNING "Love Story" was about a Jewish family. I didn't want a typical Jewish family story, even though I'm Jewish. I made Jenny, the heroine, Italian instead.

"Then I convinced Erich to change the setting from Brooklyn to New England and removed the nudity, sex and four-letter words.

"I had Segal rewrite the script nine times.

"We showed it to every studio and producer in town. No one would touch it. They told me I was insane. But I knew we had an honest, old-fashioned love story, one that didn't need sex and violence.

"Then Ali MacGraw saw it and said she wouldn't do any other picture. It was sent to Bob Evans at Paramount and a deal was made. Then I asked Erich to write a novel and publish it before we made the picture to strengthen our box office potential.

"The book came out in February, 1970. We released the picture December, 1970.

"Well, we got back $2,242,000 in the first three days. That's what the picture cost. Then Evans and Paramount asked me to sell the picture abroad, distribute it and set an ad campaign hoping for a $20 million gross.

ACCORDING TO Minsky, a handsome, rugged man, he covered 37,000 miles in three months selling the picture the world over.

"While I was gone others claimed to be the producer," Minsky said unhappily. "So far it has made more than $60 million."

"My percentage of the picture is so great I won't be able to spend all the money in my lifetime."

Movie-goers could do worse than remember the name Minsky, as in Howard Minsky, the man who really put "Love Story" together.

The Doctor Says

by Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I am very confused about vitamins. My mother, who is 80, has very dry skin. For five months she has been taking vitamin A and vitamin D combined in one capsule, but since you wrote that these are the only two known vitamins that can do harm, I am worried about her taking them. I got these from a health food store, where I was told they were good for dry skin, and her skin is better. Would you explain what you mean by the statement that vitamin A and vitamin D might do harm?

Dear Reader — The 1971 edition of the American Medical Association Drug Evaluation states unequivocally that there is no evidence that taking more than 25,000 international units of vitamin excess of this amount taken for long periods of time may cause skin and bone changes similar to those from a lack of vitamin A. Severe toxic reactions have occurred in individuals who have taken large amounts of vitamin A. Whole fishing crews have gotten sick from eating fish liver containing large amounts of vitamin A. Polar bear liver contains too much vitamin A. It is poisonous to man and can even cause death.

Now, don't panic about how much vitamin A your mother is getting. The usual daily vitamin tablet that is marketed contains about 5,000 units, which is far below the toxic level of vitamin A. The problem develops when a devoted vitamin popper starts taking multiple-vitamin tablets from different sources and then drinks milk fortified with vitamin A and breakfast food fortified with vitamin A and finally takes more vitamin A than is necessary. Vitamin A poisoning is rare in adults. Infants and children are more susceptible to the problem, but no one should be trying to add vitamin supplements to children's formula without consultation with their doctor.

Vitamin D toxicity dissolves the bones, causing the calcium to increase in the blood and causing calcification in the soft organs, particularly the kidneys. Of course, if you are deficient in vitamin D, then you can get rickets. The 1971 edition of the AMA Drug Evaluations points out that infants and children receiving adequate amounts of vitamin D in fortified foods do not need any vitamin D supplements and they can result in an overdosage. It is recommended that breastfed infants or those fed unfortified foods should receive 400 units daily as a supplement. Of course, if the baby has rickets, a much larger amount will have to be given temporarily.

Because of the prevalence of foods that have been fortified with vitamin D and since most daily vitamin tablet preparations contain about 400 units of vitamin D, I suspect that no more than one of these tablets a day should be taken. Since 400 units satisfied the daily requirement, this added to the fortified milks and fortified cereals insures most people of getting more than adequate amounts of vitamin D.

I have no objection to people taking vitamins, particularly if their diets are sub-standard. But don't overdo vitamins A and D. If you are already taking a daily tablet with all the vitamins in it, don't take still more or another tablet unless your doctor recommends it. It is not always true that "if a little is good, more is better."

LAVENDER ULTRASUEDE was chosen by Mrs. William Voss, Hoffman Estates, for her skirt which she teams with body shirt. The skirt and matching contour belt were sewn from 1¼ yards of the synthetic.

WHITE SUEDE is both beautiful and practical when it's a synthetic. Mrs. Robert E. Bartow, Schaumburg, washed her $100 worth of fabric before sewing her ankle-length vest and midi skirt. Top stitching is in beige.

FLOWER APPLIQUES and fringe trim Cindy Cantonis' off-white Ultrasuede skirt. Cindy, a student in the design career program at Harper College, modeled this ensemble in the recent spring showing.

Ultrasuede Fabric

Like The Real Thing

by MARIANNE SCOTT

We don't need the silkworm anymore to make silken fabrics. We don't even need sheep to make woolen-like fabrics; we don't need plant life such as flax and cotton bolls to make facsimiles of linen and cotton; and we don't even need animals for leathers and furs.

The test tube has spanned all these origins and even improved upon fabrics in the manufacture of easy-care synthetics that are superior in many ways to their original counterparts.

Newest of these revolutionary synthetics is Ultrasuede, a fantastic new suede that looks, feels and even rustles just like the real thing, and with all the improvements that nature can't manage. It won't pill, fray, crock or wrinkle. It's colorfast and won't water spot or stiffen. It's washable by hand or machine and it won't shrink or stretch. It is also dry cleanable by conventional methods.

ULTRASUEDE, manufactured by Skinner, is made from 60 per cent polyester and 40 per cent non-fibrous Polyurethane. The colors are beautiful — lavender, coral, spring green, beige, brown, dark brown, black and white. You can combine a dark Ultrasuede with pastel wools with no fear of it rubbing off.

You won't have to take a garment in at the seams after wearing because it won't stretch. Skirts will not crease from sitting and colors will not fade. Ultrasuede is a far cry from other suede cloths sold in recent years.

Shoppers usually do a double take when they see the price — about $17 per yard of 36-inch fabric. It's even costlier than real suede, but you'll save the difference many times over in cleaning costs.

Skinner recommends using No. 50 polyester or silk with size 14 or 16 machine needle. Stitch size for seams should be 10 or 12 to the inch. Thin pins can be used as can fine basting thread sewn with a No. 14 needle.

AS IN REAL skins, restitching is not recommended as needle marks may remain. Skinner also suggests using a pattern with nap layout and the use of the new fusables for turning back hems and seams. Small circles of iron-on mending cloth placed at the opened points of darts will strengthen and eliminate dimpling.

For machine washing, Skinner recommends a gentle cycle at warm setting with a neutral detergent. Tumble dry at moderate temperature and wash alone to avoid stains from other fabrics. Don't use bleach.

In handwashing, don't squeeze or wring — hang to dry. Iron on "low synthetic" setting with gentle pressure using a press cloth on backside of fabric. A pressing ham is recommended during construction of garments.

Since Ultrasuede is shrink-proof, it is recommended that all trims, linings and zippers be pre-shrunk to avoid later problems of buckling.

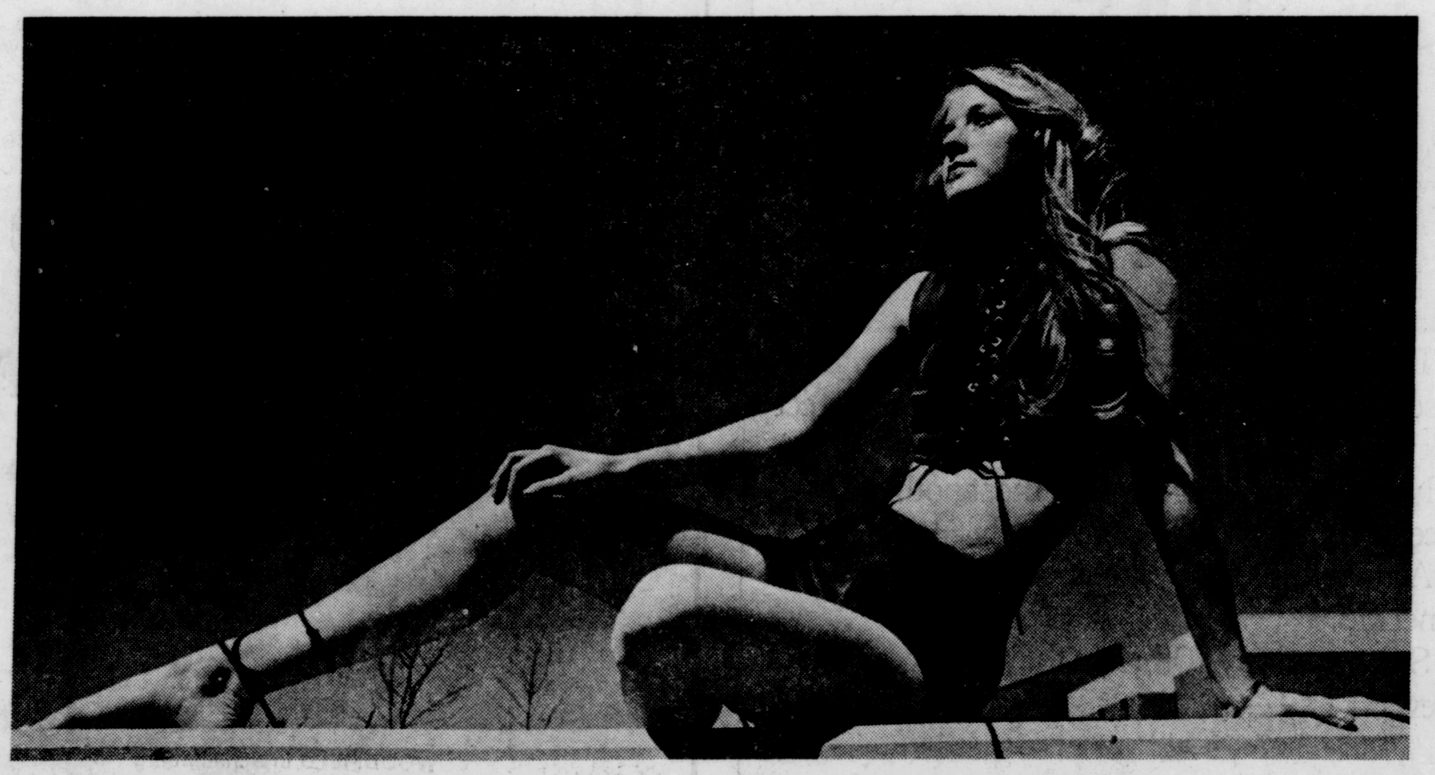

Stores carrying Ultrasuede include Marshall Field and Julie Ann at Woodfield and Mary Ann Fabrics, Prospect Heights.

FRINGE TRIM is as easy care as any washable or dry cleanable fabric when it's made of a new synthetic suede. Liat Smetstad, Hoffman Estates, named one of the top designers in the Harper design career program, created these mother-daughter ensembles.

HOT PANTS with laced midriff top is an Ultrasuede creation by Chris Wedyck of the Harper design career program. Chris, a resident of Arlington Heights, is a sophomore in the program. Students create their own patterns and often print their own fabrics.

The Home Line

by Dorothy Ritz

Dear Dorothy: This is our first spring in a house. We have some evergreens and there are odd-looking bags stuck to the branches. They look almost as if they had been shingled with tiny sticks. Our next-door neighbor says they're bagworms and that we need to pick them off and burn them. This seems incredibly difficult. Is there any other way to get rid of them? — Enid Lewington.

Your neighbor is right. They are bagworms. As to the burning, no, it isn't necessary now. Spray immediately with biazinon, dibron, malathion or sevin (carbaryl). If any live bagworms are still present seven to ten days later, spray again. Many people do this, pick off the bags latter in the year and burn them then. As you probably know by now, the bags contain larvae and the bags keep growing as the larvae increase in size. Get to the spraying right away.

Dear Dorothy: Just learned a lesson which I'd like to pass on. I took a pan of brownies out of the oven at the perfect time. The telehpnoe rang so put the pan on the stove, right over the pilot light, and answered the phone. When I got through those brownies were really baked. Hard. — Lee Manson.

Dear Dorothy: Is it true you don't have to warm the milk before giving the bottle to the baby? — Rose M.

Research has shown that infants seem to like milk just as will with just the chill taken off the milk. No harmful effects have been noted with this new procedure. Where a baby is concerned, however, the best practice always is to check the pediatrician before any change is made. The little one, of course, is the final judge.

Say It With Sandwiches

by MARY SHERRY

I don't know if the Earl of Sandwich — the supposed originator of the food assemblage of that name — was married, but if he was, I pity his wife. I know what she must have gone through because if her husband was merely Earl of Sandwich my husband has to be king.

I can't say I wasn't warned of the way he was when we were married. In my packing for our wedding trip my husband-to-be asked me to put in to bologna on rye with cheese, a little butter and a touch of catsup. Without realizing that this could be future grounds for divorce, I packed the sandwiches.

Every thing after that for the next several years it was the same. Well, not quite. Sometimes he asked for ham on toast with a slice of tomato (salted), and once in a while he had a taste for turkey on whole wheat, generously garnished with cranberry sauce.

MANY WIVES would have rebelled at having to fix a fourth meal, but I was trapped by two things. First, my husband is an only child, and he convinced me that HIS MOTHER ALWAYS fixed his sandwiches before bed. Since that was the only sign of his only-child-ishness, I made the sandwiches more or less in gratitude.

The second way I found myself trapped was my own family. I come from a family of all girls who are constantly dieting. They marvel at how their brother-in-law can stay so thin and eat two sandwiches at bedtime every night. When we visited them, if I balked at fixing the sandwiches, my sisters would offer sympathy to my poor husband and concoct some for him themselves.

THE FIRST break I had in my sandwich-making career came once when my mother-in-law was visiting us for a few days. After a couple of evenings in a row when I produced the bedtime sandwiches, she asked with some disbelief if I made them for her son every night. I replied sure, hadn't she before he was married? She laughed and said of course not. She couldn't stand the sight of the kitchen after 8 p.m.

I was tempted then to lay the butter knife down and retire from sandwich-making at that moment, but I preferred to ease myself out of the job. While I finished the sandwiches, his mother decided to speak to her son. This helped, because after that, maybe two days a week, he made his own.

Then I got an idea to help me maneuver my way out of creating sandwiches during the rest of the week. Now that his mother had blown one of the reasons keeping me in the job, I came up with a way to eliminate my sisters' sympathy when they discovered I was refusing to make bedtime sandwiches for their dear brother-in-law.

I BEGAN TO gradually increase the amount of butter I put on. Then I added an extra slice of meat. Finally I loaded the sandwiches with mayonnaise. Later I put some potato chips on the plate.

It worked. He began to put on weight. I offered sympathy, then let him discover all by himself that he had to cut out the sandwiches. Besides changing his weight, I took this opportunity to change his attitude.

Now that he is thin again, and occasionally indulging in midnight sandwiches, which I make once in a while, he understands one thing. That is, a greater love no wife has than to voluntarily lay out a plate of sandwiches for her husband.

Problem Getting Credit? Write Legislator About It

Women who have experienced difficulty in obtaining credit because of their sex or know of women who've had such difficulty are asked to write State Rep. Eugenia S. Chapman, D.-Arlington Heights, about it.

Mrs. Chapman and State Rep. Mrs. Giddy Dyer, R.-Hinsdale, will testify Monday, May 22, before the National Commission on Consumer Finance in Washington, D.C., on credit discrimination. They want to have specific cases to cite.

Women with such experiences may write a brief but specific description of what hapened and mail it to Mrs. Chapman at 16 S. Princeton Court, Arlington Heights, Ill., 60005.

Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Dyer have introduced legislation in the Illinois General Assembly to remedy some problems. One bill provides that if a person is denied credit, he or she has the right to be told the reason why. Another bill provides that when a woman marries and changes her name, she need not reapply for credit.

Did you feel . . . should we say a little loose . . in that last pair of pants you tried on in the store? But you couldn't have taken a smaller size because the waist was too tight?

There's a simple explanation "Baggies" are here. When wide-legged pants are all that one sees in women's apparel shops, it's difficult to recognize subtle changed without being out and out told.

Well, the baggies are one and I'm saying they are the latest pant innovation. They are about as baggy as a pair of pants can get without looking like some of the beach pajamas.

MATURE WOMEN like to refer to baggies as the Jean Harlow look. She was their big idol back in the 1930s. No, of course not, baggies are not something entirely new.

There are several variations to the pants although they all have one common feature. Baggies are very tight across the buttocks and then they fall straight and very full as they approach the ground. Some have pleats to make them even fuller and most have wide cuffs on the bottom.

Now ther's a hitch. It isn't easy to wear a pair of baggies. It takes almost a Jean Harlow figure. Maybe that's why she liked them.

All the extra bagginess and pleats turn into excess baggage on a not-so-slender, not-so-tall figure. Heavy things can be camouflaged but not a bigger than average middle.

WIDE-LEGGED pants remain popular in a number of other styles too. The flair has been around for a few years, and the elephant bell is picking up steam They're fun to wear. Legs flare from the knee into unbelievably wide bottoms, some up to 30 inches.

Men, hold onto those button-down collar shirts. Preliminary fall predictions are that the long-pointed button-down collar is it. The points are running anywhere from three to four and a half inches.

And guess what has just been dug up for another fashionable whirl. Plaids.

They are beginning to make an appearance in spring and summer shirts in anything from gingham checks to big window panes. But they will see even greater popularity in the fall.

MANUFACTURERS dealing in wovens for suits haverevived the classic glen plaids, but the knits have bigger and bolder plaids. Outerwear and raincoats are bing influenced too.

Soft head-hugging berets and cloches with large applique roses and figures of birds are headed for the summer fashion scene.

And watch for the return of the turban. Sophisticated touches include embroidered scrolls, Oriental and Egyptian motifs.

Bride Wears Mom's Gown

The "something old" in the bridal ensemble of Suzanne Cayez of Hoffman Estates was her mother's wedding dress. Suzanne wore the ivory slipper satin gown for her marriage on April 22 in St. Hubert Church.

The dress, worn originally by Mrs. W. M. Cayez, was as shimmering and elegant as ever for this late afternoon wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Cayez, of 113 Buckeye Drive, recalled the similar ceremony of their own as they saw their daughter become the bride of Dale Crusoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Crusoe of Park Ridge.

The ivory gown was styled with a yoke of marquisette banded in satin, long sleeves and a gently gathered skirt ending in a long train. Suzanne chose a Camelot crown trimmed with lace and pearls and a triple-tiered full length veil to complete her attire. She carried a bouquet of pink-tinged cymbidiums with ivy, all tied with a long streamer of ivory ribbon.

SUZANNE'S SISTER, Mrs. Karen Schock of Elgin, was her matron of honor, Colleen Carney of Glenview was bridesmaid, and Cheryl Noah of Hoffman Estates was junior bridesmaid.

Dale chose Roger Piecga of Rosemont as his best man, while Melvin Strom of Appleton, Wis., his cousin, and Paul Cayez, brother of the bride, ushered.

The girls in the wedding party wore multicolored floral chiffon dresses designed with a ruffle edging the neck and sleeves and a deep flounce on the bottom of the skirt.

The matron of honor had an avocado velvet ribbon banding the natural waistline of her gown and a matching avocado ribbon bow in her hair. Her bouquet of deep pink glamellias was tied with avocado ribbon.

THE TWO bridesmaids' gowns were trimmed with soft pink velvet ribbon at the waist, their hair ribbons were in the same pink, and their bouquets were also tied in pink.

During the double ring service, the fathers of the bride and groom took part, each reading selections appropriate to the nuptial ceremony.

Chateau Louise was the setting of a dinner reception with dancing afterward for 180 guests. The couple spent a two-week honeymoon on an auto trip to Florida and are making their first home in Buffalo Grove.

Both work in Des Plaines, Suzanne for MSI Data Corp. and Dale for Research Division of U.S. Gypsum. The bride studied at Marquette University and the groom at Illinois Institute of Technology before going to work.

One Wedding Leads To Another

It was at the wedding of one of Ellen K. Skoglund's Alpha Delta Pi sorority sisters that she met her future bridegroom.

Ellen, daughter of the Evert B. Skoglunds of Arlington Heights, and Drew R. Boettcher of Chicago were attendants at Eileen and Paul Osberg's nuptials and apparently caught "romantic fever."

Naturally when Ellen and Drew planned their own wedding, on April 22, they chose the Osbergs, who now live in Midlothian, as matron of honor and best man. The ceremony took place at 12:30 p.m. in Faith Lutheran Church, Arlington Heights, with a reception following at the Camelot Restaurant, Des Plaines.

Ellen's three attendants wore floral printed gowns in blue, violet and green, trimmed at the Empire waistline with violet ribbon. The girls carried nosegays of violets and cornflowers.

The violet is the Alpha Delta Pi sorority flower.

BRIDESMAIDS FOR the double ring ceremony were the sisters of the couple, Donna Skoglund and Lois Boettcher. Ushers were Alan Kubica, Chicago, the groom's cousin, and the bride's and groom's brothers, Edward Boettcher and Gerald Skoglund.

Drew's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boettcher of Chicago.

As Ellen was given in marriage she wore a traditional white gown with high neckline, Empire waist and puffed sleeves. The dress and its chapel train were trimmed with a daisy motif.

THE BRIDE made her own elbow-length veil and carried a bouquet of violets and white roses.

Ellen and Drew honeymooned in the Ozarks and are making their home in Hoffman Estates. The bride works at Little City, Palatine; the groom is a business teacher in Chicago.

After graduating from Arlington High School, Ellen earned a degree in '70 from Northern Illinois University. The bridegroom is a '71 graduate of Southern Illinois University.

MT. PROSPECT NURSES

The aspects of environmental control will be discussed at the May meeting of Mount Prospect Nurses Club. The group meets Tuesday at 7:45 p.m. in the home of Mrs. W. R. O'Connell, 413 Prospect Manor.

Raymond Samilar of the Cook County Environmental Control Bureau will be guest speaker.

Hostesses are Mrs. Frank Malecha, Mrs. James Cole, Mrs. Ronald Pankow and Mrs. Clemens Weiling.

All area nurses are welcome. They may call Mrs. Joseph Janisch at 394-1466 for further information.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN

The annual installation of officers and salad bar supper for the Women's Association of Elk Grove Presbyterian Church takes place Wednesday at 7 o'clock. The supper will be served in the church fellowship hall.

Mrs. David Pollack will become president; Mrs. Morris Myers, vice president; and Mrs. Gilbert Wishon, secretary-treasurer.

PRINCE OF PEACE WSCS

An "evening out" for mothers and daughters is planned by Prince of Peace United Methodist Church woman's society for Wednesday evening. The annual mother and daughter salad supper will be served at 6:30 in the fellowship hall in Elk Grove Village.

Mrs. Ken Thomson has coordinated a fashion show, with moms and daughters modeling their own handsewn creations. Each member of the WSCS is asked to bring her mother or daughter and a favorite salad.

The executive board members will be hostesses for this final meeting of the club year.

WOMEN IN CONSTRUCTION

"Hard Hats and High Heels" will be the film shown at the May 17 meeting of the Chicago Chapter of National Association of Women in Construction. They convene at 5:30 p.m. at the Water Tower Hyatt House in Chicago.

The film, produced by the Washington D. C. Chapter of NWWIC, projects not only the opportunities available in construction but gives particular emphasis to the role of women in the industry, depicting several areas in which women are playing effective and unusual roles in the building field.

Reservations for the meeting can be made by calling Terry Arguilla, 263-7882.

NOW Director Speaks May 17 At Club Brunch

Miss Kathy Rand, midwest director of the National Organization of Women (NOW) will be guest speaker Wednesday for a Reciprocity Brunch hosted by Hoffman Estates Woman's Club.

The event will be held in the Schaumburg Room of Woodfield Mall from 10 a.m. to noon to celebrate the club's 15th anniversary. Other woman's clubs in the district have been invited to the reciprocity day.

Miss Rand will tell about how NOW affects the average woman.

Mrs. William Wermes, program chairman, said that the early brunch was chosen so visiting club members may have time for luncheon and an afternoon of shopping on the mall.

Committee members include all past presidents plus Mrs. John Liautaud, Mrs. Donald Lundell and Mrs. Kenneth Whiting.

Churchwomen Share Retreat In Michigan

A wooded lake site at the Cassopolis Mich., provided the retreat setting for woman of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints the first weekend in May.

Loaves of wheat bread and jugs of grape juice were served at the meal after an Emmaus walk during which each woman shared her goals with another whom she was not acquainted with. This was designed to probe one another's real concerns.

TEN WOMEN from the northwest congregation at 123 S. Busse Road, Mount Prospect, attended this district retreat.

They included Mrs. Kermit Davids, Mrs. David Kent and Mrs. Bonnie Turnbull, all of Mount Prospect; Mrs. David Nelson, Barrington; Miss Janet Johnson, Mrs. Ed Kenkel and Mrs. Larry Sanderson, all of Arlington Heights; Mrs. David Chobar, Palatine; Mrs. Robert Brown, Rolling Meadows; and Mrs. John Lambkin, Wheeling.

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
